Danger Not Over But Forest Fires In East Controlled

By CANADIAN PRESS

Forestry officials and property owners in rural Quebec and Ontario districts breathed a little easier today for the first time in several days as more than 200 fires in both provinces were believed under control.

But taking no chances, the Quebec government was enforcing more travel bans in the province, which has an estimated 100 fires still burning. Crown lands from the Saguenay district, in northeastern Quebec, westward to the Ontario border were closed to ordinary travel.

Officials in both provinces said the danger was not ended. Dry weather with no prospects of rain left the brush in tinder-dry condition.

USE PLOWS, BULLDOZERS

In Ontario, with more than 122 fires still smouldering, fire fighters remained on the job and were still busy with aircraft, bulldozers and pumping equipment. Travel bans in Timiskaming and Algonquin districts and the Timmins area of the Cochrane district are still enforced but they do not apply to main roads which are still open.

First indication of the tide in the battle starting to turn came Wednesday night after a day of frequent scattered outbreaks. The biggest blaze in Snowdon Township, near Haliburton, Ont., was finally brought under control with the aid of light scattered showers. It had been raging uncontrolled since the week-end and had devoured 8,000 acres of bush.

In Quebec the most serious fires appeared to be in Lotbiniere County, on the south shore of the St. Lawrence River in a general southerly direction from Quebec City.

Yugoslav Press Continues Wordy Battle With Soviet

BELGRADE (UP)—The Yugoslav press attacked Russia with renewed fury today for trying to meddle in Yugoslavia's internal affairs and seeking the overthrow of Marshal Tito's government.

It also challenged Russia to let the Soviet people know the Yugoslav side of the dispute. By denying them that right, Yugoslav newspapers said, the Soviet Union places itself on the level of "Franco Spain and monarcho-fascist Greece."

Although Yugoslavia's latest note to Moscow concluded with a standing offer to solve "all disputed questions," there wasn't a hint of conciliation in the Yugoslav press. Instead it was defiant and angry.

The Communist newspaper Borba led the attack with a warning that Russia has "a wrong conception of sovereignty" when it tries to deal with small countries with threats and orders.

Yugoslavia, it said, has proved its ability to govern itself, "has a full right to make decisions about its destiny and nobody else is entitled to mix in."

Competent diplomatic sources said Tito apparently is convinced he is safe from direct attack in his quarrel with the Kremlin.

Coach Lines Ask 10 Per Cent Boost In Up-Island Fares

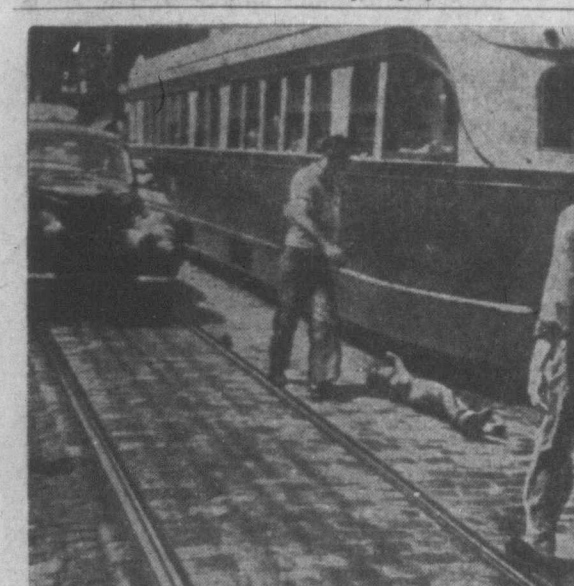

Application has been made to the Public Utilities Commission by the Vancouver Island Coach Lines for an interim fare increase of 10 per cent to apply on its up-island routes, to be effective Sept. 15, it was announced today by Harold Husband, general manager of the Coach Lines.

Mr. Husband said the company had sustained serious operating losses during the past eight months and that there is a continued upward trend in operating costs.

Hockey Scholarships Given To Easterners

French Army Paper Says Britain, U.S. Protecting Nazis

BERLIN (UP)—A French military government publication today accused the United States, Britain and Russia of refusing to surrender Germans wanted for war crimes committed in France.

The charges were contained in a study of the war crimes trials published in "Realities Allemandes," publication of the French Division of Information.

In a bitter complaint against alleged American and British leniency toward war criminals, the publication said:

"It seems that Great Britain and the United States consider their task terminated, or feel that it is inopportune to pursue it four years after the termination of hostilities."

"France, however, does not share these views, which are to some extent preventing her from carrying out her own task in this regard."

The report claimed that since 1947 the U.S., Soviet and British Military Governments had placed almost insurmountable obstacles in the way of extraditions of war criminals demanded by the French.

"There is no doubt that criminals of war sojourn in complete liberty in the American, British and Russian zones," Realities Allemandes said.

Weather Forecast

Cloudy today with sunny intervals this afternoon; cloudy Friday morning, clearing in afternoon. Light winds, little change in temperature. Low tonight, 52; high Friday, 66.

Hurricane Veering Away From Coast

HALIFAX (CP)—An Atlantic hurricane was centred 350 miles off Nova Scotia's southern tip today and travelling east-northeast at 30 miles an hour.

The Weather Bureau said it would have little effect on coastal or inland regions of the Maritimes. No ships were reported in danger.

Government Orders British Spending Cut $600,000,000

LONDON (CP)—The government has ordered an overall cut in government spending by at least $150,000,000 ($600,000,000) a year, it was disclosed today.

This order by the treasury—described as "heavy pressure to make all possible economies"—comes on the eve of the dollar crisis talks in Washington.

It was understood that a 5 per cent reduction in the estimates for next year's April budget is the target set, but it was hoped some departments could do even better.

Some civil servants, it was stated, would lose their jobs. Financial quarters thought the move a gesture to meet the American view that internal British expenditure is an important factor in Britain's balance of payments.

May Keep Taxation Unchanged

This would mean that the budget figure for expenditure would remain unchanged from this year and the reduction would be effected by the elimination of supplementary money votes. If this should prove to be the case, taxation might remain unchanged.

Wednesday night an informant close to the government suggested Britain might have to limit her social services if no beneficial results come from next month's monetary talks in Washington.

The informant said Labor Party leaders might have to start retrenchment by dropping the government's free medical services, if the dollar-pound talks fail.

Britain's social services, together with food subsidies, cost one-quarter of the country's whole annual budget of $12,000,000,000.

Britons now can call on doctors without paying fees under the National Health Service instituted 18 months ago, though each pays up to 6s 8d weekly ($1.33) to help support it.

If the Washington parley fails, the informant said, British leaders may have to consider having each person pay a shilling (20 cents) for each visit.

The source said Laborite leaders are waiting until the Washington talks are over before deciding whether to call a quick election this year, or carry on until near the end of their five year term next July.

The informant said the government expects its gold and dollar reserves to sag more than one-fourth by Sept. 30—down to $1,200,000,000.

At the end of June Britain was down to her last $1,624,000,000. The Treasury's goal had been to keep the reserves at a "safe" margin of $2,000,000,000.

The informant said Britain's balance-of-payments position for the current quarter looks "very grim" despite rigid import cuts.

Britain May Resort To Export Of Mead

GULVAN, Eng. (UP)—The making of mead, a popular and heavy drink in the days of King Arthur's court, is expected to add more dollars to Britain's dollar-short exchequer.

Resumption of bulk production of mead, made from honey, was celebrated Wednesday in a quaint medieval festival marked by a parade this ancient town's narrow streets.

Local officials, clergymen and members of the Worshipful Company of Meadmakers joined the parade in the elegant attire of the 16th century.

Mead was replaced by other beverages long ago and has not been produced in quantity for the past 400 years. New facilities are expected to produce 40,000 gallons a year, of which 90 per cent will be exported.

The Treasury's verbal warning to all department heads was not, however, officially communicated to the United States; nor was the United States consulted about it.

The Treasury's action immediately aroused speculation whether the cuts would be matched in next year's budget by a reduction in taxes.

Some quarters suggested the effect of the warning might be that government departments would be rigidly bound to adhere to their budget estimates, and that subsequent supplementary demands for funds would be entirely ruled out.

Toll Of Manitoba Crash 20

WINNIPEG (CP)—The R.C.A.F. today revised to 20 the number of persons who were killed in the crash of the Air Force amphibious Canso aircraft in northern Manitoba Sunday, 13 of them whites and seven Eskimos.

Earlier reports had placed the number of Eskimos aboard at eight, but the R.C.A.F. said the error arose through a confusion of native names.

Three children, the oldest 15 years of age, were among the Eskimos killed in the crash.

The children, all girls, were identified by Indian affairs department officials here as Anayasee, 10; Annartosi, 10; and Ublureak, 15.

The department identified the other Eskimos aboard the plane as three men—Arhaluktit, 65; Akrolyuk, 25, and Ohot, 27, and one woman, Anglalk, 25.

The plane crashed about 80 miles east of Norway House, Man., while on the 600-mile trip from Churchill to Winnipeg.

The Eskimos, taken aboard at the Northwest Territories outpost of Chesterfield Inlet, 400 miles north of Churchill, Man., were being brought out to Winnipeg for hospital treatment for poliomyelitis.

Woodworkers Here To Discuss Award Friday Night

A meeting of the Victoria local of the International Woodworkers of America (I.W.A.-C.C.L.) has been called for Friday night to discuss the conciliation board's majority award.

The meeting will be held at 8 Friday night in the Broad Street auditorium. Other coast locals of the I.W.A. are expected to hold meetings before Sunday on the same topic.

At a meeting Wednesday in Vancouver the union's district policy committee recommended that locals reject the conciliation board's majority award. The committee demanded an immediate strike vote.

The majority award turned down the union's demand of a 15-cent-an-hour wage boost, union shop, provision for a welfare fund and other changes. The award also rejected the operators' demands for a 13-cent wage decrease.

The award is not binding on either party.

Should the woodworkers strike, British Columbia's greatest industry would be tied up. The strike would involve more than 30,000 workers in an estimated 200 operations on the B.C. coast.

Reaction of the operators to the conciliation board's majority award is not expected to be known for 10 days. The award is being submitted to operators individually, it has been announced.

In the meantime it was reported that negotiations between the I.W.A. and the interior operators were proceeding. As in the case of the coast negotiations, the union is seeking a wage increase and the operators a reduction.

Communists Reply With New Push On Embattled Canton

CANTON (AP)—Chiang Kai-shek appealed today to Nationalist China for a finish fight against the "aggression" of the "Communist International." The Reds answered with a new push on uneasy Canton.

The Chinese Reds have "unmasked themselves as international agents," the Nationalist generalissimo said. He saw their power waning as a "strong arrow reaching the end of its flight."

But he also seemed to see the end of Canton as his government's refugee capital, for he said "today Chungking will again become the centre for the fight against aggression."

The new Communist drive was unleashed by famed one-eyed Gen. Liu Po-cheng in the southwest corner of Kiangsi Province. It threatened three towns near the Kwangtung Province border—all within an arc 140 miles northeast of Canton.

It was believed the Reds were trying to take Chiennan, Lungnan and Tingnan as springboards for an enveloping movement aimed at cutting the Canton-Hankow railway at Kukong, 125 miles north of Canton.

If the manoeuvre should succeed, large Nationalist forces would be forced to retreat or risk encirclement. Canton would be seriously threatened.

Says Reds' Morale Declining

Chiang claimed Communist morale was declining and their political position was weakening. Since the Reds crossed the Yangtze in April, he said, their difficulties have increased, especially after they occupied large cities. (The Communists have admitted trouble in handling such complex cities at Shanghai.)

"Tens of thousands of people in Communist-held areas are rising up everywhere to fight against them," Chiang said. (The Reds also have admitted widespread peasant uprisings and Nationalist underground activity in their areas.)

Chiang exhorted the Chinese of the northwest and southwest to rise up and fight to victory. He added: "I myself am confident of victory."

On the southeast China front, a state of emergency was proclaimed at the big port of Amoy in Fukien province opposite Formosa. The city is Nationalist mainland headquarters for southeastern China. A rigid curfew was clamped down and civilians were fleeing.

Acheson, Bevin May Discuss Anti-Red Bloc In East Asia

WASHINGTON (AP)—State Secretary Dean Acheson of the United States and Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin of Britain are expected to discuss possible development of an anti-Communist bloc of countries in the southeast Asia area when they meet here next month.

It evidently is one of the things on which the American government will have to make a decision in arriving at a new policy toward the Far East as a result of the Communist successes in China.

To date the United States officially has refrained from giving any open encouragement to the plans of President Quirino of the Philippines and others for such an organization.

Responsible informants said there is no doubt Acheson and Bevin will review the whole Far Eastern situation and seek to lay the groundwork for further British-American co-operation in that area. A similar review is expected between U.S. officials and Prime Minister Nehru of India when Nehru comes here later in the fall.

Acheson is seeking the maximum co-ordination of American policies with other friendly countries in the Far East. He also hopes to develop those policies domestically in a "completely bipartisan" manner.

He made that point clear at a press conference Wednesday in rejecting charges by Representative Walter Judd (Rep-Minn.) that the State Department's recent white paper on China was a "dishonest document." Judd had so labeled it because, he said, it did not contain some documents bearing on past relations with China which he believed would have shown up American policy there in a different light.

In his statement Acheson took the position either that the State Department had been unable to discover the documents Judd listed or that their publication would not have added any substantially new information to that which actually was given in the white paper.

Churchill Suffers From Cold; Needs Few Days Of Rest

NICE, France (AP)—Winston Churchill is suffering from a cold caught while taking a dip in the Mediterranean, his secretary said today.

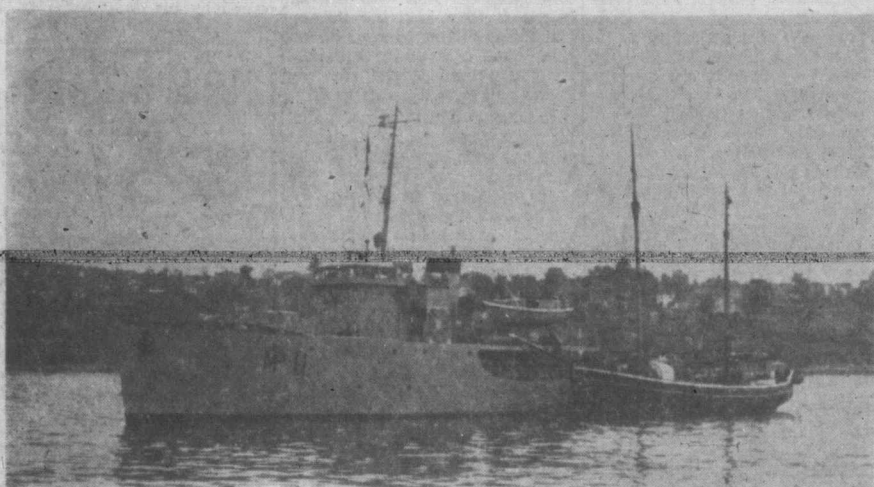

Although earlier reports had said the wartime Prime Minister was bed-ridden, they apparently stemmed from the fact that it was early in the morning and Churchill does not arise early. A police inspector guarding the villa told reporters he had seen Churchill walking around later in the morning.

The 74-year-old former Prime Minister's personal physician, Lord Moran, flew here Wednesday to treat Churchill, who is staying at the villa of Lord Beaverbrook, British publisher, near Nice.

Lord Moran issued an official bulletin through his London office today saying:

"Mr. Churchill contracted a chill while bathing. Lord Moran was sent for and he says Mr. Churchill is much better this morning, but will require a few days of rest and quiet."

Spend $30,211,190 For Jets For Canada

OTTAWA (CP)—The defence department will pay $30,211,190 for the manufacture of 100 F-86 jet fighter planes by Canadair Ltd. of Montreal, Defence Minister Claxton announced today.

He said negotiations for the manufacture of the planes now have been completed and the first aircraft is expected for delivery by August, 1950.

The contract price of more than $30,000,000 includes manufacture of the airframe, airframe spares, jigs, tools, dies, sales tax, publications, ground handling equipment, royalties and other items.

It does not include engines, radio, armament and other special equipment to be provided from other sources.

The department gave this breakdown of the total: Airframes (100) $19,029,000; airframe spare parts $1,902,900; production and machine tools $8,178,000; royalties $525,000; publications and ground handling equipment $475,300.

Costs quoted for the first 100 aircraft include many initial expenses connected with tooling up. Additional orders, if placed, would result in a lower unit cost, said the announcement.

Dwindling Forest Fires Claim Life In California

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The battle against fires ravaging North American forests took a favorable turn today.

Rain and diminishing winds aided the fire fighters.

The situation is still serious, however, in many areas. Flames have wiped out valuable timber in the western United States, New England and eastern Canada.

One person was killed and four injured Wednesday in California's forest fires. A 32-year-old lumber crew member was killed by a falling tree in the Stanislaus national forest, where flames have blackened more than 7,100 acres.

Fire fighters in Idaho's national forest still were running into trouble. One of four major blazes in the Payette national forest broke loose Wednesday and ran over an estimated 6,000 acres.

The total Payette fire area spread to 24,000 acres. An additional 125 men were being added to the 1,700 attempting to check the flames. Two of the main fires were under control.

The outlook in the Black Hills of South Dakota was promising. Rangers looked for favorable winds to blow the flames back over burned-out areas. An estimated 5,000 acres of timberland and 10,000 acres of grassland were hit.

About a dozen forest fires still were burning in New England, but none was reported as serious.

Clothing Price Reduction In Britain 5 Per Cent

LONDON (UP)—The Labor government today ordered a 5 per cent cut in the prices of all utility clothing, footwear and household textiles despite the protests of Britain's small businessmen.

The price cut will take effect Sept. 26. However, an organization of 250,000 small businessmen had asked its members to ignore the order to force a showdown with the Board of Trade.

To offset the effects of the price cuts, the Board of Trade released from price controls 42 groups of goods ranging from pencils to suspenders. Henceforth, manufacturers and retailers can charge what the traffic will bear.

Harold Wilson, president of the Board of Trade, said the whole scheme would be reviewed at the end of three months to see how it is working.

Which Twin Has Toni? Neither, It Turns Out

WASHINGTON (AP)—The advertisements ask: "Which twin has the Toni?" Now the government wants the ads to answer this one: "Where did she get it?"

The Federal Trade Commission announced today that the Toni Company of Chicago, maker of home permanent wave kits, has agreed to modify its advertising campaigns built around twin sisters with seeping double hair stylings.

The commission thought the customers were getting the wrong impression, and weren't being told the full story. It appears that both twins have the benefit of expert hair wranglers. The commission said in a statement:

"Advertisements failed to disclose the fact that the coiffures of both twins were styled by a professional hair stylist and thereby represented that the Toni coiffure was done by the purchaser herself or by an amateur. Similarly the advertisements compared the price of a Toni wave alone with a stated price of a beauty shop wave and coiffure combined without disclosing that the beauty shop price covered the coiffure as well as the waves."

Hawaii Strike Talk Unlikely To Resume Despite Ching's Bid

HONOLULU (AP)—Prospects were slim today that chief negotiations to settle Hawaii's 117-day-old dock strike would be resumed immediately.

In Washington Wednesday, U.S. Conciliator Cyrus Ching urged the seven struck stevedore companies and the C.I.O. international Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union to get together.

Employers, union officials and federal mediator George Hillenbrand were to confer today on side issues disputed in Hawaiian ports outside of Honolulu.

The union is asking a wage increase of 32 cents an hour over its present $1.40 an hour scale.

The union earlier had postponed indefinitely any renewed negotiations in Hawaii. It had said all developments awaited the return here of union president Harry Bridges, who is in San Francisco. Word received Wednesday said he would not return soon.

MANILA, P.I. (UP)—Vice-Admiral Oscar C. Badger, U.S. navy commander in the western Pacific, announced today that evacuation of Americans from the Canton area of South China had been completed.

Badger arrived today from Hongkong aboard the heavy cruiser St. Paul, preparatory to turning over his command to Vice-Admiral Russell S. Berkey, former commander of naval forces in the Far East.

Planes Spotting Course Of Storm Over Atlantic

MIAMI, Fla. (UP)—Southern Florida was put on a "stand-by" hurricane alert by the U.S. weather bureau today when aircraft reconnaissance showed that hurricane No. 2 of the season had swerved toward the Bahamas Islands and the Florida mainland.

A hurricane advisory issued this afternoon said the storm was only 480 miles east-southeast of Miami and increasing in size and power. Winds near its centre were clocked at 85 miles an hour.

"Southern Florida should stand by on the alert for further advisories," the weather bureau said.

The northern portion of the Bahama Island chain, its nearest point only 60 miles from the south Florida coast, was ordered to take hurricane precautions immediately. The storm was expected to strike there during the next 24 to 36 hours.

Only 12 hours previously the weather bureau had reported the storm was taking a new course which would carry it north of the Bahama Islands and farther north up the southeastern coast. But an aircraft check today showed the hurricane's northerly movement had been halted by a high pressure area north of the Bahamas, diverting the storm west-northwest toward the Florida coast.

The hurricane was moving toward the coast at 15 miles an hour.

The season's first hurricane, which boiled up out of the hurricane belt only two days before No. 2 made its appearance, was on a course which indicated it might blow itself out in the North Atlantic.

Little Permanent Effect By Marshall Plan Feared

STRASBOURG, France (AP)—Criticism that Marshall Plan aid is producing little permanent effect on Europe's economy marked the wind-up of the European Consultative Assembly's economic debate.

Conservatives, Socialists and middle-roads predicted without contradiction that Europe is in for economic chaos, social upheavals and even war if she cannot achieve economic unity before the recovery program ends in 1952.

United States aid had been commended in the assembly as generous and wise, but some speakers blamed the countries receiving aid for not taking adequate measures to speed their own recovery and for not submerging national differences in behalf of Europe's welfare.

A resolution introduced by Winston Churchill's European Movement said that "unless immediate steps are taken to promote a European economic union there must inevitably be a European economic collapse, involving a catastrophic decline in the standard of living of the European peoples and social disturbances endangering their democratic way of life."

British government delegates, however, advised a go-slow policy. They said an economic union, stripping tariff protection from some industries, would create widespread unemployment.

Mannstein Protests 'Lies' As Charges Laid By Prosecutor

HAMBURG (Reuter)—Muttering "all lies" and "filthy" several times, Field Marshal Fritz Erich von Mannstein today heard prosecuting counsel at his war crimes trial accuse him of liquidating thousands of Russians, Jews and gypsies, and using prisoners as mine-field guides.

Sir Arthur Comyns-Carr, chief prosecutor-counsel, said many thousands of Russian civilians were executed on any pretext. One woman, he said, was executed for refusing to take in washing for German soldiers.

Sir Arthur said Maj. Gen. Ohlendorf, former commander of the dreaded Task Force "D"—extermination squad which carried out many of the killings—had refused to give evidence for or against Mannstein.

Coach Lines Want Up-Island Fares Increased 10 Per Cent

Application has been made to the Public Utilities Commission by the Vancouver Island Coach Lines for an interim fare increase of 10 per cent on its up-island routes to be effective Sept. 15, it was announced today by Harold Husband, general manager of Coach Lines.

Dr. W. A. Carrothers, chairman of the P.U.C., said the accounting firm of George A. Touche and Co. had been appointed to investigate the company's accounts and a financial statement submitted with the application. Dr. Carrothers believed the board would be "taking action of some kind" on the application within two weeks.

(The P.U.C. on March 14, 1948, allowed the company to eliminate its low return week-end fares and to increase general rates from 3 1/2 to 3 3/4 cents per mile.)

Mr. Husband said the company had sustained serious operating losses during the past eight months. A continuing upward trend in all phases of operating expense included higher costs for replacement parts, fuel, maintenance costs, heavily increased capital cost of equipment, while wages had maintained a very high rate.

Wide-spread reductions in scheduled services over many island subsidiary lines were made in an effort to achieve a maximum of economy and efficiency of operation. Mr. Husband said and the company had endeavored to reduce operating costs wherever possible.

"In March last, when the 15 per cent federal transportation tax was removed by the Dominion government, we considered making application to have the 15 per cent tax absorbed into our fare structure, as was done by other transportation companies in the Dominion, but we were loath to apply for this increase until we had assured ourselves that our operating position could not be improved by other measures," Mr. Husband said.

Fare increases asked for will not apply to urban routes in Victoria and Saanich, nor to Sidney and West Saanich routes. "Pending wage negotiations have no bearing upon the fare increase being asked for," Mr. Husband added. "The losses experienced have developed under present wage rates."

GIBRALTAR'S APES

THE TWO MONKEYS WHO escaped from a traveling show and caused some consternation and fun by their capers in the city just recently lend a local topical note to a problem which is causing much greater concern across the other side of the world.

It has to do with Gibraltar, that strategic rock in the Mediterranean which means so much to Britain, and which for centuries has been famous for its apes.

But Britain's problem is not of concern over the behaviour of the Rock's simian population, but over their declining numbers. For legend has it that "when the apes go, the British go, too."

HEED THE LEGEND

SOME people are inclined to scoff at such legends. But the British authorities evidently have reason to believe the prophecy has an element of truth in it, as they are preparing to reinforce the chattering colony with young blood from the forests of Barbary, in nearby northwest Africa.

Like many another legend in the British tradition, this one has grown up over the centuries, no doubt fostered by the troops who have garrisoned the island from time immemorial, and who have become familiar with the powerful, tall-less monkeys that scamper over the famous 1,350-foot Rock.

As a matter of fact, says the National Geographic Society, Gibraltar's apes are not apes at all but are macaques—another branch of the simian family. About the size of a big Alredale terrier, they are the only wild animals found on Gibraltar.

OFFICIAL STANDING

ACCORDING to the scientists, their ancestors came across the Mediterranean in prehistoric times, when the Strait of Gibraltar was dry land. Be that as it may, the Gibraltar apes were given official protection by the British as long ago as 1856.

At that time they were added to the garrison strength, given food rations and even placed in charge of a sergeant, known as "Keeper of the Apes."

That unfortunate individual must have had his work cut out, for the macaques made his life miserable by taking advantage of their official immunity by acts of thievery and damage. The leader of one mischievous monkey gang, caught stealing kits from the garrison, was given a close shave of the head and face.

CLOSE SHAVE

BUT HE WAS too barefaced a scoundrel even for his simian gangster friends, who greeted him with a shower of sticks and stones and treated him so roughly that he gladly sought shelter with the soldiers who had shaved him.

In 1874, it is recorded, a flash fire caused the frightened apes to slide hundreds of feet down one of Gibraltar's famous rain catchments. Later they accepted first-aid care from the soldiers for their cuts and bruises.

Despite their thieving ways, the apes evidently had some sense of obligation, for it is said that one occasion they saved the garrison by giving noisy warnings of an attempted surprise attack by the Spanish many years ago.

REINFORCEMENTS

ALTHOUGH the numbers have seriously dwindled of late, it is a curious thing that men who have explored the labyrinthine caverns of the Rock report that bodies or skeletons of the apes are rarely found. It is believed they are either hidden deep or thrown into the sea by their survivors.

Against such a background of association closely interwoven into the garrison life of Gibraltar, it is little wonder that these monkey denizens have become clothed with legendary importance.

And I, for one, can well understand why the British authorities don't feel like monkeying with this particular superstition or prophecy—call it what you will.

Bertrand, Jean Appointed Judges; Rinfret, Lapointe Join Cabinet

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent Wednesday night announced the appointment of two of his Quebec cabinet ministers to the bench and the promotion of two young Quebec members to government ranks.

Postmaster-General Bertrand, 60-year-old lawyer and Liberal member of the Commons for Montreal-Laurier since 1935, has been appointed to fill one of the four vacancies in the Quebec Court of King's Bench, Montreal division. He will be replaced in the cabinet by 44-year-old Edouard Rinfret, Liberal member of the Commons for Montreal-Outremont and son of Chief Justice Thibault Rinfret of the Supreme Court of Canada.

Solicitor-General J. Jean, 59-year-old member of the Commons for Montreal-Mercier since 1932, has been appointed to fill one of the four vacancies in the Quebec Superior Court. He will be replaced in the cabinet by Hughes Lapointe, 38-year-old M.P. for the Quebec constituency of Lotbiniere and son of the late Rt. Hon. Ernest Lapointe, for years' Minister of Justice.

MARIE JUDGE

Mr. Jean will fill one of three vacancies in the Montreal division of the Superior Court. The other posts will be filled by Elphege Marier, 61, Liberal member of the Commons for Montreal-Jacques Cartier, and by George S. Chailles, a Montreal lawyer.

Eugene Marquis, 47-year-old Liberal M.P. for the Quebec constituency of Lotbiniere, will fill a vacancy in the Quebec division of the Superior Court.

The appointment raised to six the number of vacancies in the Commons elected in the general election of June 27 last. No dates for by-elections have yet been fixed, but Mr. St. Laurent said they would be held this year.

Mr. St. Laurent said Maurice Boisvert, Liberal member for Nicolet-Yamaska, Que., and Arthur Laing, Liberal member for Vancouver South, had been chosen to move and second the address in reply to the Throne Speech in the Commons. Both were elected for the first time in the last election.

NO OTHER CHANGES

Mr. St. Laurent made the announcements at a press conference following a three-hour meeting of the cabinet.

During the conference Mr. St. Laurent made these disclosures:

1. No other cabinet changes are contemplated at the present time.

2. He has told Premier Campbell of Manitoba that a Dominion-provincial conference on taxation matters will be called at least a year prior to the expiration of present taxation agreements in 1952.

3. He has told Premier Douglas of Saskatchewan he is not convinced that a Dominion-provincial conference should be called at this time.

4. A Dominion-provincial conference will be called prior to 1953 if the prospects for accomplishing something concrete are bright.

5. Legislation providing for participation in the construction of a trans-Canada highway likely will be introduced at the session of Parliament opening Sept. 13.

6. The Canadian government regards the Atlantic Pact, which came into force Wednesday, as an instrument of peace that already has given some proof of its value in that respect.

He said that at present there are no talks going on between the federal and provincial governments on the question of taxation agreements. The talks now centre on housing and on the construction of a trans-Canada highway.

It is expected the campaign will continue for a month.

Block memberships have been taken out for drivers of Hudson's Bay Company, Eaton's, B.C.E.R., V.I. Coach Lines, and other companies employing large numbers of truck drivers, but individual motorists reportedly are not lending support.

ROCHESTER, Minn. (AP)—Agriculture Minister James G. Gardiner of Canada was reported in "fine" condition here following a gall-bladder operation.

A Mayo Clinic spokesman said Wednesday that Mr. Gardiner was sitting up and talking and that he probably would be discharged in about 10 days.

Film Board Seeking More Independence; Would Be Like CBC

OTTAWA (CP)—The National Film Board no longer wants to be tied to the government's apron strings. It wants a form of corporatized independence—just like the CBC.

This lack of corporate status is interfering in the film board's work, Film Commissioner Ross McLean said in a 25,000-word brief presented Wednesday to the Royal Commission on Arts and Science Development.

It couldn't enter into contracts with foreign film organizations and was even hindered in entering into agreements with Canadian organizations, such as school boards and provincial governments. All these negotiations had to be handled directly by the government.

Then, too, the film board needed more money and additional staff to carry out an expanded film program to meet Canada's cultural and educational needs.

J. F. MacNeill, board secretary, said the board depended on the government's consolidated fund for its revenue. Unexpended balances at the end of the year had to be returned. But if it had the status of the CBC, this balance could be kept and built up for future use.

With the arrival of television on the Canadian scene the board's work would increase. Video would call for greater film demand. One-quarter of television programs in the United States were made of film screenings. In Canada the percentage would be even greater.

Government Orders British Spending Cut $600,000,000

LONDON (CP)—The government has ordered an over-all cut in government spending by at least $150,000,000 ($600,000,000) a year, it was disclosed today.

This order by the treasury—described as "heavy pressure" to make all possible economies—comes on the eve of the dollar crisis talks in Washington. It was understood that a 5 per cent reduction in the estimates for next year's April budget is the target set, but it was hoped some departments could do even better. Some civil servants, it was stated, would lose their jobs. Financial quarters thought the move a gesture to meet the American view that internal British expenditure is an important factor in Britain's balance of payments.

May Keep Taxation Unchanged

This would mean that the budget figure for expenditure would remain unchanged from this year and the reduction would be effected by the elimination of supplementary money votes. If this should prove to be the case, taxation might remain unchanged.

Wednesday night an informant close to the government suggested Britain might have to limit her social services if no beneficial results come from next month's monetary talks in Washington.

The informant said Labor Party leaders might have to start retrenchment by dropping the government's free medical services, if the dollar-pound talks fail.

Britain's social services, together with food subsidies, cost one-quarter of the country's whole annual budget of $12,000,000,000.

Acheson, Bevin May Discuss Anti-Red Bloc in East Asia

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—State Secretary Dean Acheson of the United States and Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin of Britain are expected to discuss possible development of an anti-Communist bloc of countries in the southeast Asia area when they meet here next month.

It is evident that one of the things on which the American government will have to make a decision in arriving at a new policy toward the Far East as a result of the Communist successes in China.

To date the United States officially has refrained from giving any open encouragement to the plans of President Quirino of the Philippines and others for such an organization.

Responsible informants said there is no doubt Acheson and Bevin will review the whole Far Eastern situation and seek to lay the groundwork for further British-American co-operation in that area. A similar review is expected between U.S. officials and Prime Minister Nehru of India when Nehru comes here later in the fall.

Acheson is seeking the maximum co-ordination of American policies with other friendly countries in the Far East. He also hopes to develop those policies domestically in a "completely bipartisan" manner.

He made that point clear at a press conference Wednesday in rejecting charges by Representative Walter Judd (Rep. Minn.) that the State Department's recent white paper on China was a "dishonest document." Judd had so labeled it because, he said, it did not contain some documents bearing on past relations with China which he believed would have shown up American policy there in a different light.

In his statement Acheson took the position either that the State Department had been unable to discover the documents Judd listed or that their publication would not have added any substantially new information to that which actually was given in the white paper.

Woodworkers Here To Discuss Award Friday Night

A meeting of the Victoria local of the International Woodworkers of America (I.W.A.-C.C.L.) has been called for Friday night to discuss the conciliation board award made last Saturday and possible strike action.

The meeting will be held at 8 Friday night in the Broad Street auditorium. Other coast locals of the I.W.A. are expected to hold meetings before Sunday on the same topic.

At a meeting Wednesday in Vancouver the union's district policy committee recommended that locals reject the conciliation board's majority award. The committee demanded an immediate strike vote.

The majority award turned down the union's demand of a 15-cent-an-hour wage boost, union shop, provision for a welfare fund and other changes. The award also rejected the operators' demands for a 13-cent wage decrease.

The award is not binding on either party. Should the woodworkers strike, British Columbia's greatest industry would be tied up. The strike would involve more than

Middlesex Set Back By Derbyshire In Cricket Finals

LONDON (Reuter)—Middlesex, County cricket championship leaders, needing to win their final match against Derbyshire to make sure of at least sharing the championship, were given a shock today when Derbyshire shot them out for 130 runs, and thus took a first-innings lead of 89.

But Derbyshire also found difficulty in making runs on a tricky pitch at Lords and at close of play they were only 181 runs ahead with their last pair at the wicket.

Yorkshire maintained their keen challenge by finishing the day against Gloucestershire needing only 62 to win, with eight wickets in hand.

Freddie Brown, England and Northamptonshire captain, completed the double of 1,000 runs and 100 wickets in the season when he had scored six runs against Worcestershire. Harold Gimblett, Somerset, completed his 2,000 runs for the season in the match against Nottinghamshire.

To Hold Inquest On Traffic Tragedy

Dr. E. C. Hart, city coroner has ordered an inquest be held concerning the death of Thomas Jones, 56, 1135 McKenzie Avenue, whose unconscious form was found behind the wheel of his car after it struck a truck at Store and Cormorant Streets Wednesday.

There are indications that Jones, a motor dispatcher at H.M.C. Dockyard, may have died of a heart attack before the accident rather than as a result of the crash.

Police reported no visible injuries to deceased other than one small cut above one eye and another on his leg.

Jones had resided in Victoria for the past seven years.

He is survived by his widow and two daughters, Mrs. B. C. Nickel, Montreal, and Mrs. J. V. Shawcross, Vancouver.

Parker car was proceeding west on Esquimalt when another vehicle, traveling in the opposite direction, swung over on the wrong side of the road, taking up all the room.

Canada's Armed Forces To Be Brought Up To Strength

OTTAWA (BUP)—Canada's armed services planned today to increase their strength as the nation stood ranged alongside 11 other countries on the first day of their working agreement to keep the international peace.

Defence Minister Brock Chason announced the active forces totaled 43,927 for the three services, or 87 per cent of their planned strength.

He said his army chiefs reported full active force establishments would be reached by September, 1950, if present recruiting rates continued.

The army now has a strength of 19,522, the navy 9,047, full complement, and the air force 15,358.

The minister added that to meet the continuing need, the recruiting campaign which had been successfully carried on throughout last year, will be continued.

The North Atlantic Security Pact was proclaimed in effect at a White House ceremony Wednesday.

External Affairs Minister Lester Pearson, commenting on the occasion, said the treaty will build the strength and freedom of the North Atlantic community as a buttress of peace.

"I am confident Canada will do its full part along with the other signatories to build up and maintain the strength and freedom of the North Atlantic community," he said.

New Uniform For Canada's Soldiers

OTTAWA (CP)—Tests now being conducted may lead to various changes in the uniform of the Canadian army, it was learned here Wednesday.

In a number of establishments across the country, a new summer work uniform is being tested and may be adopted for general use if the results of two years of experiments are successful.

The suit is olive green in color and is not unlike the uniform worn by the Germans during the African campaign of the Second World War. It is also somewhat like the British army "zoot suit."

To Start Construction Of Gymnasium At U.B.C.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Construction of the 5,000-seat gymnasium at the University of British Columbia will start mid-September.

Despite lack of funds for the $831,153 project—the Alma Mater Society has accumulated only $700,000—the contractors have been told to go ahead with the work.

"They will build what they can," said Jim Sutherland, A.M.S. president.

Truck, Car Hit

Damage was done to both vehicles when a milk truck driven by John G. O'Sullivan, 402 Wilson Street, and a car driven by Bud Kinsman, 1959 Brighton Avenue, collided on Redfern Street this morning.

According to police, the milk truck was being backed south on Redfern while the Kinsman car was going west on Brighton, turning north on Redfern.

PRESERVING THE PEACE

WITH LITTLE FANFARE THE HISTORY making Atlantic Pact became effective yesterday, shortly after Prime Minister Mackenzie King had given formal notice of ratification of the agreement. Representatives of the 12 Pact nations—Canada was the first of all to give official approval to the project—gathered with President Truman in Washington and watched as the United States leader signed a proclamation declaring the treaty to be in effect. So began a defensive arrangement designed to deter any prospective aggressor from assaulting any member of the alliance. Attack on one of the 12 signatory nations will be interpreted as an attack on all, with the combined strength of all available for retaliation. The member states are: Britain, the United States, France, Canada, Italy, Belgium, Luxembourg, The Netherlands, Norway, Denmark, Portugal and Iceland.

Moscow, and those who echo its sentiments, of course, have charged that the Pact is an aggressive alliance, with the object of waging war against the Soviet Union. That conception can only come true if the Soviet Union first attacks one of the members; and the prospect of peace lies in the hope that such a united front will be sufficient to dissuade the war-makers of any nation who may be inclined to succumb to the dream of world conquest.

A MAGNET TO VETERANS
WHEN MEMBERS OF CANADA'S forces were moved, in the course of training, from various parts of the Dominion to districts adjoining Victoria, their appreciation of the country hereabouts was a subject of continuous comment. Innumerable instances they expressed the desire to return when the war was over, and to establish themselves in this favored part of the nation.

The manner in which ex-servicemen have implemented such plans is indicated in the report issued this week by the Veterans Land Act administration. In the words of Mr. G. L. Chatterton, regional supervisor for Vancouver Island:

"The rate of establishment under V.L.A. during the past three years has been steady and it is expected that the same rate will continue for the next two or three years."

We who have enjoyed the privilege of living here for many years can understand the attraction of Vancouver Island. And it seems fitting to us that those who donned uniform should share the amenities of this region with us. It is, moreover, our good fortune that so many of our new settlers should be drawn from ranks whose readiness to uphold Canadian principles has been proved so conclusively.

Noteworthy in the statement by Mr. Chatterton was the information that the extensive settlement plan has been carried on with not even a one per cent failure on Vancouver Island, and that arrears in payments are below two per cent. Those facts furnish their own commentary.

Veterans are not, of course, the only people who are coming in numbers to this part of the world to make their homes. Population growth here would not have been so great as it is had no other sources contributed to new settlement. In this connection some of the uncertainties of immigration must be considered. The strangers who have come have been welcome and will, without doubt, make their own contributions to the development of our Island. It is satisfying, however, to note the stabilizing influences that are furnished by the veterans. It is unnecessary to assist them to learn to be Canadians. They have already demonstrated that knowledge beyond dispute.

EDITORIAL CONCERN

THE VANCOUVER DAILY PROVINCE seems to be somewhat apprehensive lest the lack of a potent opposition in the next Legislature of British Columbia may tend to detract from the Coalition government's vigilance. We do not object to the attention which our friendly contemporary draws to this aspect of public affairs. But we think that the mainland daily is worrying itself needlessly when it says:

"One thing, above all, the government must do if it would retain the confidence of the electors. It must resist by every means in its power the tendency toward extravagance and over-expansion that always besets a government with a big majority and buoyant revenues. It has embarked upon a large program. It has vast sums of money to spend. In spite of this, the obligation remains to spend the people's money with economy and good judgment—not to lay it out in needless organization and governing for the sake of governing. This obligation must be observed. Otherwise, the barnacles will collect and the barnacles will slow down the administration and eventually wreck it."

To repeat, and we say this advisedly, if the Vancouver Daily Province will cease to worry about a weak opposition it will have nothing about which to complain. What ought to be remembered is that when the people went to the polls last June 15, they had made up their minds for whom they would vote. Therefore, if, through the exercise of a dearly-won franchise, a majority of voters in this highly-favored province of British Columbia decided to return the Coalition government with an overwhelming majority, surely it was their privilege.

At the same time, we are intrigued with that part of the foregoing excerpt which argues that the administration over which Premier Johnson presides should not use buoyant revenues on provincial policies which might run contrary to "economy and good judgment." Yet, if our memory serves us right, it was the Vancouver Board of Trade, supported by the Vancouver newspapers, which sent delegations to Victoria in the days of the Oliver government to demand the spending of public monies for this, that, and the other project.

We are not raking up this bit of political history to support our contention that Premier Johnson can be depended upon to safeguard the finances of the province; but we are mentioning the matter here because it almost invariably happens that present-day advocates of reduction in public expenditures are so often those who, in former years, were the protagonists of government spending—wise or otherwise.

GET IT STRAIGHT

AN ITALIAN SHIP'S MASTER IS quoted in Vancouver as claiming that the Marshall Plan is being used as a device to pump money into his homeland in order to prepare it as an operational base against Russia in a future war. He is also reported to have said that "we have seen the advantages of neutrality from Spain, and we do not intend to go to war again."

While such pacific sentiments are very admirable, they ring a little hollowly from a citizen of a country that declared unprovoked war on Abyssinia, invaded Albania, and whose then highly popular leader clamored for the privilege of taking part, with Hitler, in the bombing of London. Abhorrence of war is a fine thing, but it comes with less credibility from a native of a country that did its best to whip its weaker neighbors and ended up by being whipped itself.

In any case, the sea captain's beliefs regarding the Marshall Plan are evidently not held by the majority of Italians today, as the recent general election in that country made evident. Premier Alcide de Gasperi was given a definite mandate by the people to pursue a democratic course of collaboration with the western powers. Only Russia and her satellites interpret the economic rehabilitation of the Mediterranean nation as a military threat to Communist aims.

WHAT'S THE USE?

NOT MANY YEARS AGO professional and top-ranking amateur golfers thought they were doing exceedingly well if they completed a 72-hole medal round with a score of 300, or slightly less.

In the early 'thirties, however, winners of important national and international tournaments were able to turn in scores of about 280. And when the tournament marker could post on the board on the final day a 72-hole total of 275, say, the competitor who could point with pride to that was considered a producer of golfing miracles.

Small wonder, then, that the golfing world stands almost aghast at big Jim Ferrier's score of 263 which won for him the Grand Rapids' Open Golf Tournament last Sunday.

All of which must be making the "dub" ask himself what is the use of trying to beat par when par is made to look so silly by young men such as Ferrier who were novitiates a relatively few years ago.

CONSISTENCY THOU ART . . .

WE ARE TOLD THAT "THE DOMINION" authorities appear to be doing little to assist the provinces to surmount "the problem of constructing the Trans-Canada Highway. For example, the morning paper has conceived the idea that the federal government should establish a commission to try to find out which route such a national highway should take through the two western provinces. And it proceeds to argue that "delays may be protracted so long as settlement of the route question is left to the provinces," but that "a commission would be in a position to determine what would be best for the Dominion, which should be the prime consideration."

As we have pointed out in numerous articles in these columns, the Dominion Government will be confronted with a most intricate problem until the western provinces decide through which part of their respective territories their sections of the Trans-Canada Highway should pass. But what amuses us, incidentally, is the Daily Colonist's argument that the Dominion should assume an arbitrary stand on a matter in which the provinces of the west—as manifested by their respective propaganda material—demand their say. Do we hear the old, familiar cry about centralization of authority, so dear to the Tory mind?

NOW STAY HOME

BRITISH AVIATRIX MRS. RICHARDA MORROW-TAIT has returned to London. She claims she is the first woman to circle the globe in a single-engine airplane. Writing under her own by-line in the Sunday Dispatch, she has treated the news-paper-reading British public to a statement intended to convince the man and woman in the street that when she embarked upon her aerial adventure she had no particular motive other than that of breaking a record.

Very few people in the world are interested in Mrs. Morrow-Tait's explanation of her relationship with the young man who accompanied her on her world-girdling journey. But most reasonable-minded people everywhere will sincerely hope that future would-be record makers in aviation will see to it that they try to contribute something of real value to progress in that field.

Matter Of Fact

By STEWART ALSOP From Washington
ASIA—SUMMING UP: II

WHAT now clearly threatens in Asia is nothing less than a third world war. What is needed to avert this catastrophe is to treat the situation in Asia as a warlike situation, which it is. A policy of business as usual in Asia will make a third world war inevitable.

The Soviets are already directing their drive for power in Asia as though it were a major war effort. The supreme commander of this effort is no less a man than V. M. Molotov. The American response to the Soviet power drive is feeble, diffuse, and lacking in direction. It is absolutely essential that the United States should be able to respond to every challenge rapidly, sometimes secretly, and always powerfully. This can only be done by conferring great personal authority on a man of real stature whom the Congress and the country can trust. The British have already done just this, by giving great power to Malcolm MacDonald, high commissioner for south-east Asia.

THE KIND of power which must be granted is suggested by the nature of the most immediate problem in Asia—that of finding a realistic American course of action in China. The Molotov-Mao Tse Tung strategy is obvious. It is to press down to the borders of Burma and Indo-China, and link up the vast Chinese Communist armies with the strong Communist undergrounds in these countries. If this can be done before the resistance to the Communists in Burma and Indo-China is strengthened, Burma and Indo-China will go. And they are the keys to southeast Asia. Therefore, any action which will slow the Communist push south is in the vital American interest.

YET A PUBLIC, official American commitment to what is left of the Chinese Nationalist government would in the end confront the United States with an impossible choice. She could send troops to back up the commitment. Or she could welch on the commitment, which would finally destroy American influence in Asia.

What is needed instead is an unpublic, realistic, clandestine effort to shore up the many independent remaining centres of resistance to the Communists in south China. A comparatively small investment in arms, and above all silver, astutely distributed, might hold up the Communist push south for a long time. And a few months, even a few weeks, may spell the difference between holding southeast Asia and losing it.

THIS SORT of clandestine effort, which promotes American interests without publicly committing the United States, can only be successfully undertaken if something like wartime powers are granted. Wartime authority is also essential if the only remaining instrument of Western power in Communist China—the economic weapon—is to be effectively employed.

The Chinese Communists must trade with the West, and they know it. Mao Tse Tung has already announced that the greedy capitalists, in their hunger for markets, will be forced to trade with him on his own terms. If the West proves him right, the West deserves to lose Asia. But there is no reason why he should be proved right. For it is quite possible so to control trade with China that the threat of a partial or complete economic blockade can become a powerful instrument of policy.

FOR EXAMPLE, Mao Tse Tung has publicly promised "material assistance" to the Communists in Southeast Asia. If Shanghai and other big Chinese cities are not to wither away, they must have what only the West can supply—fuel oil, cotton, machinery, a dozen other commodities. It must be made crystal clear to the Communist leaders that infiltration or supplying of arms to Southeast Asia, or pressure on Hongkong, or any other aggressive action beyond China's borders, will mean economic blockade and the death of Chinese industry. Thus the Chinese Communists can be constantly confronted with the conflict between self-interest and ideology which led to Tito's break with the Kremlin.

If this economic weapon is to be used, firm agreement with the British is essential. But it is also essential that Congress grant the great power necessary to control every dollar's worth of trade with China.

INDEED, whatever facet of the struggle for Asia may be examined, it is clear that great power, exercised with the speed and flexibility of wartime, is wholly necessary.

It is necessary, too, for a final and compelling reason. Everywhere in Asia, the conviction is growing that the United States has written off not only China, but all Asia. This conviction is Molotov's greatest single asset. Asia must be convinced, first that the United States has no imperial ambitions, but second that Asia will not be allowed to succumb to a new Soviet imperialism. The best way to do this is to appoint a supreme commander to direct a great American effort in Asia, and to grant him the money and the authority he must have if the Soviet drive for power in Asia is to be halted.

We have had three rounds of wage increases in the past three years. The country was assured that each was possible without price increases. (But) prices did increase . . . so that the higher wage benefits were soon nullified.—Herman W. Steinkraus, president, U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

No Room In The Harbor

The Great Demand For More

By R. J. DEACHMAN

THE PEOPLE of Canada are still talking about the June election. There are those who fear that the huge majority is dangerous, alike to the party in power and the country as a whole.

SUFFICIENT MAJORITY

Regardless of the party which may happen to be in power, the government of the day should have a majority sufficient to carry out its platform—if it has one. There is no greater danger to a democracy than a government in office but not in power, bidding for support from the weak—the political strays, with no real convictions, who sit on the fences of expectation looking for a handout.

This is the distributive age. Different groups seek government aid—tell us they cannot breathe without it. The spirit of self-reliance is gone. It gave power to the pioneers; they drew it in with their mothers' milk—the present generation gets it from family allowances. We seek a Father Bountiful, with infinite capacity to come to our aid—cash from the state is to make us strong! Some deem it to be more important than production.

This is one of the weaknesses of present-day democracy. The cry from every side is for state aid. We need more houses; let the government build them. Provide our youth with athletic fields and athletic experts to direct their sport activities. Let the children be raised by the state or at least provide them with sufficient money to obtain the necessary "cokes"! Let us consume all we produce; few think of tomorrow!

REAL TASK

But the real task is to strengthen the economy of the nation and thus build a national edifice which will withstand the storms inevitable in human life and found in the history of every country.

In a time when we were richer than ever before we have passed out hundreds of millions of dollars to be spent on consumer goods. There will come a day when normal operation of economic laws will call a halt to these activities. We will not be able to answer. The fixed charges will be too high if we yield to every claim for government assistance.

A weak government would not be able to resist these claims, backed as they are by subtle arguments. We are told that these expenditures are simply transfers of purchasing power from one section of the community to another—from those who earn to those who consume.

The plea is for a re-distribution of the national income, more burdens for those who work—more ease for those who loaf. But real prosperity means the largest possible army of producers equipped with the best machines producing with the greatest possible efficiency.

PRESSING PROBLEMS

Meanwhile we postpone to a later day the things which should have been started generations ago. What about reforestation? The loss from forest fires is enormous. Then there is soil erosion which represents an immense annual loss. In these things we live on promissory notes which are never met—we pass on to the future the problems created by the waste of today. Yet still there is hope. Slowly we are beginning to think—even to act on some issues. There is indeed much to be done.

Death Is So Permanent

By JOSEPH LISTER RUTLEDGE

THE roadsides of present-day Germany are dotted with billboards carrying the warning: "Drive carefully. Death is so permanent." It is significant, perhaps, that the signs should appear where Nazism blossomed, and where Communism is battling to enslave a nation and a continent and to dominate a world.

Once there was a measure of democracy in most of Europe. The people had the authority to vote a party into power or to reverse their opinions and vote it out, without resort to violence. We are sometimes asked to believe that the Communist party has been equally responsive to the public will. Didn't Italy defeat the party at the polls?

That is true, to a point. It is true while people remain conscious of the threat, and use their freedom to defeat it. It is true, in a measure, where the party has not achieved power. There it ceases to be true.

The threat lies in those forces that weaken the will to resist, the growing sense of insecurity, the growing eagerness to have the state assume responsibilities that once were personal, the political chaos that moves people to question the effectiveness of democratic controls. Hitler was the answer to Germany's ineffective gamble with National Socialism. Mussolini sprang from the discontent and disillusion of Italy, Tito from the warring elements of Yugoslavia, Klement Gottwald from the open communist treachery in Czechoslovakia.

DIVIDED COUNSELS

Everywhere democracy had failed to establish its case. It failed because of divided counsels; the belief that remedies could be achieved without effort and co-operation.

Federal Assistance?

Ottawa Citizen

By payments like those for old age pensions, family allowances, and health grants, the federal government already gives much assistance in provincial fields. Its aid to technical, vocational and veterans' education has set precedents for other educational grants. The time is more than ripe for the nation to help finance the schools that are moulding its future citizens.

It failed because people did not really believe in it and because they were ready to take a chance that the good in a bad system might somehow work a miracle and make it all good.

So Communism marched to power, because minorities knew what they wanted, and because majorities were ready to accept prepared answers rather than figure things out for themselves. Then it was too late to look back, and to change opinions as they could have been changed under a democracy.

There is no provision for change in a totalitarian regime. It can come only by way of revolution. There the press is bridled and cannot tell the truth if it would. There the free interchange of thought is forbidden. There is no place for more than one viewpoint, the viewpoint of authority.

There is but one authority and the concentration camp awaits those who show any sign of protest. There are some who would argue that perhaps Communism, or one of the beliefs that offer an easy approach to it, might be worth a trial. Let them remember the billboards of Germany. There is no second choice. Communism, like death, is so permanent.

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press News Analyst

YUGOSLAVIA'S hard-boiled Communist dictator, Marshal Tito, probably would be the first to admit that he isn't a good insurance risk in these perilous days of his political quarrel with Russia.

Tito's defiance has placed Moscow in the position of having to smash him—in one way or another—or suffer perhaps irreparable damage to its prestige abroad. It remains to be seen whether the Muscovites will take the job over themselves or whether they will delegate it to Yugoslav Bolsheviks who remain loyal to the Kremlin.

The Marshal's offer Tuesday to negotiate "all disputed questions" between Yugoslavia and Russia still is unanswered. But Moscow's temper is made clear by its press, which continues to blast Tito and his regime.

WORLD-IMPORTANCE

Since this Tito imbroglio is of world-importance, it's well that we understand its genesis. It isn't particularly complicated, but it does present a curious situation. It's like this:

The Moscow brand of communism is "international communism"—the opposite of nationalism. Communist states like Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia and so on, must surrender their sovereignty to the Moscow Kremlin and follow the lines of policy laid down by the Kremlin.

To many of the satellite states this surrender of sovereignty has been abhorrent, but most of them have accepted it in the face of strong-arm methods. However, the independent and fiery people of Yugoslavia, under the leadership of Tito, have refused.

A THORN

This defection from the Moscow line has created a dangerous situation for the Bolshevik world revolution, to establish international communism. Yugoslavia's defiant disobedience affords encouragement to other satellites to rebel, and strengthens the determination of free countries to remain so.

Tito's defiance could, for example, adversely affect the Soviet plans for the communization of China. General Mao Tse-tung, the Red leader, may or may not be Moscow's man. The fact remains, however, that nationalism runs strong in China and it is quite possible that a so-called Communist China would be of the Yugoslav brand, that is, Nationalist.

So we see that Moscow is pushed into a corner where it is bound to take strong action to defend its world revolution by bringing Yugoslavia into line. Therefore Marshal Tito's scalp is at a premium right now.

MAIN OBJECTION

Edmonton Journal
The great objection to extending the human life span to 150 is that we'd be our own posterity, and have to pay our own national debt.

SUMMER RAIN

Montreal Gazette
There is, perhaps, no rain so lovely as summer rain. It is gentle and refreshing, falling from a sky as softly grey as the feathered dove.
The whole world opens its arms to receive it. Slim blades of grass, lovely faces of roses, finger-like fronds of ferns, broad leaves of plants—all look upward, smiling, to welcome the healing rain.

In this soft rain colors are intensified. Grass is greener and flowers are brighter. The hollyhock against the wall is more brilliant and the robin has a brighter breast.

COLLECTIVISM QUALIFIED

London (Ont.) Free Press
As population increases, life becomes more intricate, and new methods of government have to be worked out. Individualism developed America but it also brought about great injustices and disparity of returns and happiness. This is why the Rooseveltian slogan, "We are all in this together," was received so enthusiastically by the masses of the people. Today in Britain the millions who formerly lived on the lowest levels are better off than ever before. Because of this people will accept a certain degree of bureaucracy even though they do not like the principle.

Collectivism and the sharing of income may be the only way in which modern society can safely manage its own affairs. There must be a middle way, a true liberalism, which is neither Socialism nor Fascism, and it is the duty of administration in the free countries to discover this middle way, and to govern within it.

Wandered From Trail

CHILLIWACK (CP)—A nineteen-year-old Mission, B.C., girl, Kathleen Rooney, has survived a 36-hour ordeal in the rugged Chilliwack lake area.

An emergency plane, piloted by Pete Deck, brought the girl here late Wednesday where she was treated for shock and minor bruises before being returned to relatives.

She was found by a search party, about seven miles from the lodge where she had been staying, in a dazed condition. She is believed to have fallen on the rocks after wandering off the trail leading to the lodge.

The Canadian Pensioners' Association will meet Friday at Prince Robert House.

House Passes Bill To Join Alaska, U.S. By Rail Link

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House, without a dissenting vote, on Wednesday passed a bill for the eventual purpose of linking Alaska by rail with the United States, through British Columbia.

The measure, drawn by Rep. Jackson (Dem.-Wash.), now goes to the Senate, where a similar bill has been proposed by Senator Magnuson (Dem.-Wash.).

Stress was laid on the military need for an Alaskan rail link with the U.S. rail system in a favorable report accompanying the bill from the House foreign affairs committee.

"It seems a foregone conclusion," the committee noted, "that in a future conflict Alaska will be a prime enemy target."

The bill authorizes a location survey for a standard gauge line 1,400 miles long, connecting the Alaska railway system with the railroads of British Columbia, which in turn tie in with the U.S. rail network.

The President would be empowered to negotiate an agreement with Canada for the purpose, and once an agreement is concluded to have the survey made.

REPRESENT CANADA AT EDINBURGH FESTIVAL—Members of the cast of "Eros at Breakfast," the Canadian-written play to be presented the week of Sept. 5 at the Edinburgh Festival. The popular one-act fantasy was written by Robertson Davies, editor of the Peterborough, Ont., Examiner. ## Federal Govt. To Assist Marketing Of Apple Crop

OTTAWA (CP)—The federal government will announce soon the steps it will take this year to assist in the marketing of Canada's apple crop.

In prewar and early war years Canada sold its surplus in the United Kingdom, but the shortage of dollars and an increase in apple production in the United Kingdom have combined to close that market completely to Canadian producers. So far they have been successful in marketing their crops in Canada and the United States, but this year things may be different as a 21 per cent increase in the size of the crop is being forecast.

The crop is expected to amount to 16,216,000 bushels compared with 13,404,000 bushels in 1948. It is estimated there will be between 1,500,000 and 2,000,000 barrels more of a crop this year than the producers were able to market last year in Canada and the United States. New or expanded markets will have to be found for this overproduction.

Agriculture department officials recently met with representatives of the apple industry from British Columbia, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Quebec and Ontario. No final decision was reached on the form of government assistance for this year.

There has been some speculation over the form the assistance will take. Some believe the government will set a floor price under terms of the Agricultural Prices Support Act and agree to take any apples producers cannot sell. Others believe the government will agree only to take the surplus over last year and leave to producers the problem of marketing the same amount as they did a year ago.

With the closing of the United Kingdom market, the federal government decided to assist the

Firemen Bring New Engine From East

DUNCAN—Now en route east to pick up their new fire engine from the factory at Woodstock, Ont., are a group of Duncan firemen, headed by Fire Chief J. Chaster.

The men flew to Detroit, from where they crossed to Canada. They will have several days' instruction with the new fog system of fire fighting and then drive the engine back by way of the United States, stopping at a different firehall every evening.

Part of the trip's cost is being met by the factory, the remainder being saved from when the freight charges would have cost.

While the regulars are away, a number of honorary firemen who have previously served on the local brigade are filling in.

Seek Friendship

NEW DELHI (AP)—Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru said Wednesday night it is vital for India to maintain a sound relationship with her powerful neighbor, the Soviet Union. He made the statement in a reception for India's eminent educationist, Professor S. Radhakrishnan, new ambassador to Moscow who will leave next week to assume his duties.

Barred From U.S.

WASHINGTON (CP)—The justice department disclosed that two Toronto union officials and a London, Ont., woman have been permanently barred from the United States. John Horbatiuk, Abraham Levine and Joyce Haliday were excluded, a spokesman said Wednesday, on grounds that their entry would be "prejudicial to the best interests of the United States." He declined to elaborate.

Canadian National Exhibition Opens Friday In Toronto

TORONTO (CP)—The Canadian National Exhibition, a fall fair that became the world's biggest annual exhibition, will open tomorrow to the first of more than 2,500,000 expected visitors.

This will be the 70th C.N.E., and the fall fair flavor competing with displays of atomic bomb materials and the only slightly-less fashionable Broadway comedians, Olsen and Johnson.

The pigs, sheep and cattle are being bedded down on 300 tons of straw and tons of hay, oats and other fodder have been arriving every day.

The national horse show will take up the final week of the two-week-long fair. The directors say the show this year will be aimed less at the huntin'-shootin'-and-fishin' set and more at the man on the street who doesn't know a hunter from a hackney pony.

The 1,000-foot outdoor stage of the $3,500,000 grandstand, completed last year just before the fair opened, will be the scene of the Olsen and Johnson show with its chorus of Radio City Music Hall dancers.

Nearly 500 workmen have been busy painting and cleaning up the $35,000,000 worth of exhibition buildings and the 2,500,000 square feet of exhibitors' space. When the C.N.E. gets going it will employ some 6,500 people.

Solarium Appoints New Administrator

The directors of the Queen Alexandra Solarium for Crippled Children announce the appointment of Clarence E. Moore to control all solarium physical assets and business administration.

Mr. Moore resides at 1558 Beach Drive, but will in the near future make his residential headquarters at the Solarium. He will assume his duties on Sept. 15.

Returning to Winnipeg after four years as a flying officer in the Royal Naval Air Service and Royal Air Force during the first World War, Mr. Moore followed a successful business career in Winnipeg for many years, and in 1940 came to Victoria.

Mr. Moore's appointment will relieve Dr. Glenn Simpson, superintendent, and Miss Dorothy Andrew, assistant superintendent, of many business matters and care of the physical assets of the society so that their full time and energy may be devoted to the medical side of the solarium's activities.

Mr. Moore's appointment has been made necessary by the resignation as administrator and appointment to the board of T. W. S. Parson's few months ago.

The board announces the resignation of S. Blyth as accountant. Mr. Blyth has been with the solarium for two years.

Prairies May Change System Of Crops

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y. (CP)—A leading Canadian agriculturist today told food experts of the world that western Canada's grain industry may have to be modified.

Dr. E. S. Archibald, director of the Dominion's experimental farm service, said grain growing may have to be replaced by a "grass-grain and legume sequence."

"Grass would be left down periodically for several years at a time in order to replace lost organic matter," Archibald said in a paper read before an agriculture section meeting at the United Nations' scientific conference on the conservation and utilization of resources.

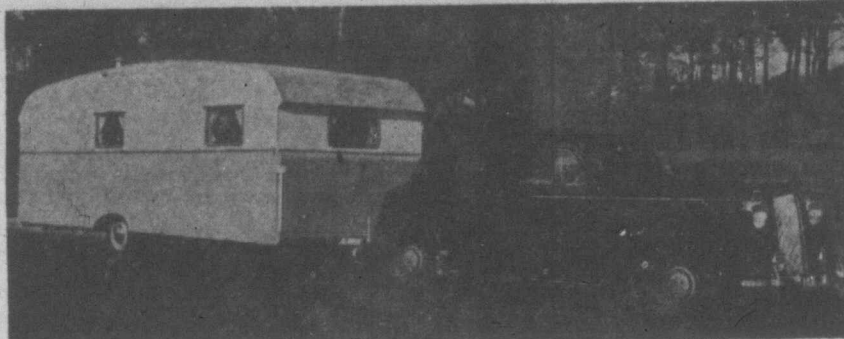

He said grain farming on the prairies, confined almost exclusively to cereals, has been maintained "fairly—satisfactorily." This has been done, he said, by technical advances in controlling wind erosion, plant disease, insect pests and better crop varieties.

In a paper on cropping systems as an aid to sustained production, Dr. Archibald added:

"The grain industry in western Canada, however, is relatively young, and there are indications that the prevailing cropping system may eventually have to be modified to include grass and legume cultivation."

Since there is about only two acres of crop land per person in the world it is necessary that soil resources everywhere be used to the best advantage, Archibald said.

"Maximum exploitation and maximum conservation must go hand in hand if world nutrition is to be raised and maintained at a satisfactory level," he added.

Oak Bay Council Handles Flood Of Varied Complaints

Complaints about traffic conditions, unsightly lots and marauding dogs were among the complaints received by Oak Bay Council Wednesday evening.

W. H. Harold Allen, 3200 Midland Road, wrote complaining of pavement conditions, traffic signs, excess speeds, heavy trucks, unkept park areas and narrow streets around the Midland Circle in the Uplands. The circle he said had several holes deep enough to upset a cyclist.

A petition asked the council to remove a number of horse-chestnut and plane trees along a section of Beach Drive. It was signed by Dr. and Mrs. C. M. Henry, 141 Beach Drive; F. H. and Lydia M. Partridge, 151 Beach Drive, and by Col. F. T. and Hilda Fairley.

The petitioners complained the trees constantly were shedding their leaves, requiring much leaf-raking, and shutting out the sunlight.

However, A. S. C. Musgrave, municipal engineer, said his department did not have funds this year for removal of the trees.

Another petition complained of conditions on a vacant lot, claiming it was a breeding place for noxious weeds, rats and mice. The petition was signed by W. M. Howlett, Dr. R. A. Grant, A. E. Berry and L. Howard, all of whom lived on Monterey Avenue.

When a letter was received, claiming damages for cows killed by Oak Bay dogs on the Eastwood Dairy Farm, Acting Reeve J. V. Johnson wanted to know if the man had no recourse, but was told the municipal solicitors had advised the municipality was not responsible.

The B.C. Electric Railway, replying to a report from Oak Bay's police chief on a bus hazard outside Willows Beach Park, said there was no point in reversing their route this year because school would soon be starting.

The transportation company did suggest an experimental reversal next summer, but pointed out that some residents in the area had complained when the buses previously ran the other way.

Council May Ban Overhanging Neon Signs In Oak Bay

Restrictions on the use of neon signs in Oak Bay to prevent the overhanging type may be established.

There is nothing more unsightly than to look down a street and see neon signs projecting over the sidewalk," said Councilor R. B. Wilson. He was commenting on a by-law that would control use of the neon signs. He recommended that Oak Bay adopt the same regulations as those on Park Avenue, New York City, where all signs are required to be flush against the sides of the building.

However, the council discovered that, under one section of the by-law, the signs could overhang the road by 18 inches, and under another section were allowed a four-foot overhang.

Acting Reeve J. V. Johnson, remarking that all store fronts had to be 10 feet behind the street line, said: "I don't think we have any right to restrict a man from putting a sign over his own property."

The discussion then was tabled for the next meeting.

Says Willows Beach Scene Of All-Night Drinking Parties

An irate Oak Bay resident complained to the municipal council Wednesday evening of all-night drinking parties at Willows Beach.

Rosa Haggen, 2327 Beach Drive, wrote: "They come down in droves with beer or whiskey which we can see them drinking behind the bathing house. After that they begin to shriek and scream."

She said she had telephoned the police one night, but added, "if they came, it made no difference, we were kept awake until 3 a.m."

If it was possible to close Uplands Park at 10 at night, why was it not possible to close the Willows Beach at midnight, she wanted to know. "No one minds sing-songs, but these drinking parties should be prevented," she added.

May Soon Produce New Polio Vaccine

NEW YORK (AP)—A vaccine against polio now seems only a matter of time.

Just a few years ago the problems of getting a safe one looked almost insurmountable.

But now monkeys and mice are being protected against infantile paralysis by vaccines developed in two laboratories. These are not yet ready for humans, and there may still be unforeseen pitfalls ahead.

The vaccine research and other discoveries lead top scientists to predict a human vaccine within the foreseeable future.

One of the main reasons why a safe vaccine now seems possible is the work of researchers, headed by Dr. Sidney O. Levinson, at the Michael Reese Hospital in Chicago. They have prepared a vaccine that works in mice. It's made by exposing the polio virus to ultra-violet light for only three-tenths of a second.

In that fraction of a second, the virus is killed. It is no longer able to produce the disease when it's injected into mice. But this killed virus is efficient at stimulating antibodies to produce immunity. And this is the vital point.

Plenty Of Rabbits

LONDON (Reuters)—Some 20,000,000 rabbits have been imported to Britain from Australia in the last five months, the food ministry announced Wednesday. Between 1,000,000 and 1,500,000 rabbits pass into the markets for sale each week.

Propose Increasing Allowable Income Of Aged Pensioners

Suggestion of increasing the allowable income of an old-age pensioner by $120 per year to allow for the increase granted recently by the federal government was presented at a meeting of the Senior Citizens' Campaign Council Tuesday at the Hard-of-Hearing Hall.

After a discussion, it was decided to turn the proposal over to the legislative committee for further study. The meeting also decided that the Means Test of the Old-Age Pension Act should be entirely abolished. Decision was reached to deal with the matter thoroughly at a later date and then call for a mass meeting to arouse the interest of other groups in studying the question. A delegate to the council, recently returned from a tour in Great Britain, commended the Labor government for its legislation with regard to the aged citizens of that country. While admitting there was room for improvement, the present legislation was giving the senior citizens and those in need greater benefits than any previous legislation enacted, the delegate stated.

Miss N. Hoshal was accepted as a new member of the council.

Oak Bay To Give Free House Numbers

Oak Bay Council, which has been attempting to get municipal residents to display their house numbers in a conspicuous place, has decided to give free sets of house address numbers in a new move to win their battle.

A by-law was passed recently requiring clearly visible numbers to be displayed on each house, but Councilor George Murdoch Wednesday evening claimed that numbers which were obscure when the by-law was passed were still obscure.

One of the major reasons for the by-law was to improve conditions for firemen and policemen who had to be able to answer calls quickly.

A. S. G. Musgrave told the councillors it would cost 28 cents a set to supply the numbers.

Student's Experience As Waitress At Emerald Lake Merely Whets Appetite For Adventure

A spirit of adventure, combined with a keen desire to see the Rocky Mountains, are reasons given by Miss Diana Arnott when she tries to explain why she took a two-month summer position as waitress at Emerald Lake Lodge in the heart of the Canadian Rockies.

"She returned to her home on Dewdney Avenue last Tuesday and tells you emphatically that she enjoyed the experience and would go back every year if she had the opportunity for," it was wonderful.

Following graduation from Oak Bay High School in June, Miss Arnott, with other high school and college girls from all parts of British Columbia, applied for summer work in one of the mountain resort hotels. She was accepted, given a choice of locale and picked Emerald Lake, "because I've always liked the sound of the name and because everyone who had ever been there said it was so beautiful."

Unlike Banff or Lake Louise where there is "always something doing," Emerald Lake is "definitely a place to relax and rest," according to Miss Arnott.

SEES COUNTRY

"We had to make our own fun in off hours," she tells you; "there were bonfires, we went mountain climbing and we did a lot of hitchhiking."

In this connection Miss Arnott explains that the staff was not supposed to "fraternize" with lodge guests, "but they picked us up when they met us on the roads and took us with them on many of their trips."

There were 25 young college and high school girls on the Emerald Lake staff. Eight of them, including Miss Arnott, were chosen as waitresses which she says "is the best pay."

"They were housed in the staff annex, two in a room; they had to be up at 6.30 a.m., had breakfast at 7, were ready in the dining-room at 7.45 a.m. and usually started serving about 8.30 in the morning. They worked the three meals, with hours off from 2.30 until 5.30 (one day off a week) and were through about 9.30 in the evening. The dining-room seated 75 and the busiest meal, as luncheon, Miss Arnott served three tables.

The girls wore uniform dresses

"It gives me a great desire to travel and see things," said Miss Diana Arnott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Arnott of this city. And she's starting out to do just that, for she leaves Friday with her parents to motor to San Francisco for a three-week vacation before entering her first year at Victoria College. "And you can be sure," she concluded, "that on this trip I'll have a great sympathy for the problems of the girls who'll serve me in dining-rooms along the way. You see, I've learned a lot about the public in two months."

In a soft green shade with white starched aprons and caps.

"First few days my feet were terrible," the young student tells you with a wry grimace. "I raised a grand crop of blisters, I can tell you. But I just kept going and they finally disappeared and my feet didn't bother me again."

"Yes, I did spill plenty of food," she said, and then added with a relieved smile, "but never on any of the guests. The knack of balancing a big tray, shoulder high, was hard to learn but I always managed to get it away from the table. I sometimes wondered whether I would get it as far as the door. But eventually you even get used to that."

There were no celebrities at Emerald Lake while Miss Arnott was there, "just nice people." She said the resort attracts many

Learning Was Tops In 18th Century

EASTBOURNE, Eng. (CP)—It wasn't much fun being a child in 18th-century Britain. A collection of 1,500 antique children's books, exhibited at the Conference of Library Associations, shows that even Christmas and birthday gifts were designed, not to amuse, but to edify and instruct.

"The Juvenile Magazine, published in 1788, was editorially addressed to children who are 'fond of instruction.'"

A book called "School Dialogues for Boys," dated 1783, is described as an attempt to "convey instruction insensibly" to young minds and to instill the love of virtue.

One of the first cut-outs, "The History of Little Fanny" (1810), tells how Fanny came to grief through "laziness and vanity" until in the last chapter she is "restored to her former station, modestly dressed with Bible in hand, now no longer idle, proud or vain."

Not surprisingly many of the first children's magazines had a short life. But when publishers turned to "blood and thunder" their success was assured. In 1876 boys of "noble birth" started subscribing to "The Boys of England," a young gentleman's journal of sport, travel, fun and instruction.

Within a month the editor claimed a circulation of 150,000 copies sold at a penny for 16 pages.

The groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Welch, came from Vancouver for the ceremony performed by Rev. F. E. M. Tomalin. The bride was gown in glistering white satin styled on long, flowing Princess lines, the fitted bodice contrasted with skirt fullness drawn into a bustle bow and swirling into a slight train. A veil of embroidered net, held with a bandeau of dainty white carnations, billowed to full-length, and the bride carried pink and white carnations gladioli.

Mrs. William Boothroyd, honor matron for her sister, wore full-skirted nylon net, long mitts of self material, and floral bandeau. She carried a bouquet of toning blossom.

Bert Welch, Vancouver, was best man for his brother. William Boothroyd and Alan Wilson ushered. Miss Margery Patterson sang "O Perfect Love."

Girl Was Tempted Crime Films Banned

BEACONSFIELD, England, (Reuters)—A 15-year-old girl at the juvenile court in this Buckinghamshire town who confessed to a love of gangster films will henceforth go to the movies only once a week. She will see only films with "nice music and nice dancing," and never on Sundays.

She will consult the priest at her church when she is overwhelmed by "temptation."

She promised these things in court after admitting money thefts including sums from her mother and brother.

The magistrates deferred decision to see if the girl kept her promise.

Presentation Made To Mrs. C. Newbury

A picnic lunch, followed by a regular meeting of Craigflower Women's Institute, was held recently at the home of the president, Mrs. R. Rogers.

Highlight of the afternoon was presentation of a compact, suitably engraved, to Mrs. C. Newbury, past president of the institute, who will make her future home in Vancouver.

Mrs. M. Gouge was appointed convener for the fall bazaar and Mrs. D. Keiser and Mrs. O. Sandford conveners of a rummage sale to be held in the Pub. Market on Nov. 9. Mrs. C. Allen was voted a member of the executive to replace Mrs. Newbury, and Mrs. V. Bligh and Mrs. M. Caddick were named auditors.

It was reported that a baby spoon had been presented to Mrs. W. Hawryluk.

Following the meeting, afternoon tea was served.

Of special interest was the ceremony in Gorge Presbyterian Church, in which a member of a well-known pioneer family, Thomas Joseph John, great-grandson of the late Thomas Mitchell, South Saanich, and of the late Richard John, Glamorgan Farm, North Saanich, claimed for his bride, Miss Joan Marie Edwards.

The elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph John, John Road, Sidney, and only daughter of Mrs. Mary Edwards, 2820 Inlet Avenue, and G. Edwards, Duncan, are in Los Angeles on honeymoon and will return to Sidney to make their home.

White wedding bells and streamers suspended above tall baskets of pin and white gladioli created an attractive setting for the ceremony, Aug. 18 at 8, performed by Rev. T. H. McAllister.

Traditional white slipper satin with lily point sleeves, and sweetheart neckline was donned by the bride. A coronet held yards of misty illusion net, which cascaded beyond her gown, and white streamers completed her bouquet of scarlet rosebuds and white freesias. Edward Logan, Brentwood, gave her in marriage.

Bridesmaid, Miss Patricia Mas-singham, wore a toe-touching frock of pink brocaded silk, and carried a Colonial bouquet of pink and white carnations.

Three-year-old Judy Carr, as flower maid, was in yellow taffeta crinoline.

Ben Elwell was best man. Bill Edwards, brother of the bride, with Bruce McIntyre, ushered guests to their seats.

Douglas Parks sang "All Joy Be Thine," accompanied by Frank Holmes at the organ.

Mrs. Edwards and Mrs. John received more than 100 guests with the couple at a reception in Hampton Hall. A three-tier wedding cake, made by Mrs. Harold Munson, was cut by the newly-weds.

Grandmere's Locket Enhances Viola Painter's Bridal Gown

An heirloom locket, studded with seed pearls and threaded on a slender gold chain, belonging to her grandmother, Mrs. William Allen, was the only ornament worn by Miss Viola Eleanor Painter, when she exchanged marriage vows Wednesday evening with Alfred Ronald Warren, youngest son of Saanich reeve, E. C. Warren, and Mrs. Warren, 920 Falmouth Road.

First Baptist Church was bright with garden flowers for the service performed by Rev. G. R. Easter.

The bride, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Painter, Craigflower Road, wore classic white slipper satin, the sheer yoke creating off-shoulder effect, and the fitted bodice sweeping into a full skirt, slightly en train. Ruffled lace showed at the hemline, trimmed with satin bows.

Mists of French illusion tulle cascaded from her satin tiara into a full train, and she carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses and swainsonsa.

The bride had a trio of attendants.

Matron of honor was Mrs. H. G. Painter Jr., her sister-in-law. She wore pale blue taffeta with tiny bolera jacket and voluminous skirt. Miss Myrtle Painter, cousin of the bride, was in rose taffeta for her role as bridesmaid. Both wore lacy mitts and carried arm bouquets of pink carnations, with similar flowers fashioning their bandeaux.

Flower-girl, three-year-old Kathleen Painter, niece of the bride, was frocked in true pink taffeta, the bouffant skirt ruffled at the hemline. She carried a basket of summer flowers.

Arnold Earl attended the groom as best man.

Ushering were H. G. Painter and Charles Warren, brothers of the newlyweds, with William Allen.

While the register was signed, Mrs. J. C. Hilton sang "Love's Coronation." Oliver Stout was organist.

A reception followed at Loughheed's Banquet Club, where Tom W. Platt, a close family friend, proposed the toast.

A three-tier cake, encircled with miniature cakes, centred the bride's table.

The newlyweds are motoring to Banff and Calgary on honeymoon and will return through United States, to make their home in this city.

Toronto Woman Gives Life For Others

BROCKVILLE, Ont. (CP)—
Connie Beattie spent most of her
24 years—her 25th birthday would have been next Tuesday—helping others.

The pretty Brockville and Toronto physiotherapist was among the persons killed when a G.C.A.F. Canoe aircraft crashed
Sunday in northern Manitoba.
Born in Brockville, she was an honour student at Brockville
College and commander of the Girl Cadet Corps in her senior year.

After graduation in physiotherapy from University of Toronto she enlisted in the Canadian Army Medical Corps as a lieutenant and later joined the staff of Toronto East General Hospital's physiotherapy department. In 1948 she headed it.

The same year she was elected president of the Canadian Physiotherapy Association and was in charge of the Dominion congress held in Toronto.

When the health department at Ottawa asked for a volunteer physiotherapist to go to Chesterfield Inlet, in the Arctic, to treat polio-infected Eskimos, she immediately offered her services.
She left Toronto last April.

She was returning after four months' continuous service with eight stricken natives and was scheduled to marry Dr. Guthrie
Grant of Brooklyn, Ont.

Summer's Beauty Reflected In Bridal Party

Gladioli in shades to complement their gowns were carried by attendants pictured

Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

HELP THE MIDDLE-CHILD BE DIFFERENT

To be the middle child of a family can be a definite handicap unless the parent recognizes the deficits of this position and works to overcome them.

The first child goes through life with the prestige of age and position. Nothing, no one, can take those from him. He is the first and his superiority of age and precociousness as a first child, give him a unique, unassailable position in the family.

Comes the second child. This may be a she and so there is no disadvantage. A female will be a novelty if the first child is a boy or vice versa. If both children are of the same sex there is still the advantageous position of baby, a position second to none in any household.

But what happens to this baby when a third child is born. He, or she, can never have the superior position of the oldest child. The position of baby of the family is lost to the newcomer. And unless the sex is different from either first or last child, what is there left for the middle child except to be outstanding and noticeable because of looks, behavior, personality, skills or talents?

The methods adopted by a middle child to equalize his disadvantages has, at times, given him the reputation of being difficult. Subconsciously he recognizes his handicaps and strives to make up for them.

He often pulls himself up by his bootstraps in order to reach scholastic equality with the older child.

If the parent is on her toes she will make opportunities for this child to be outstanding. She will develop any talents he or she may possess. She will cultivate the child's differentness and make the most of it. "Edward is the child in our family who can whistle like a bird—or stand on his head, or run faster, or sing or dance or be athletic or artistic." The possibilities are limitless. But the inspiration and the admiration must be furnished.

Our leaflet No. 45, "Lefthandedness," may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

One Blind, One Deaf, Couple Go Boating

MONTREAL (CP)—Joseph
Pare, middle-aged Montreal furniture maker, who lost his sight when only 18 years old, indulges in his favorite sports—boating and fishing—with the help of his wife who is deaf.

Mrs. Pare has more faith in her husband at the helm of their motorboat than in other men.
She helps him steer by pulling a string attached to his arms.

Because of his wife's deafness, Mr. Pare uses the same device to call her attention.

Mr. Pare runs his own buzz saw flawlessly when repairing or making furniture.

One of the reasons given for the increased demand of the body for vitamin C during hot summer months, is the loss of vitamin C in perspiration. Vitamin C is needed by every cell of the body, every day of the year, in order that the body can work at its best, so we must be extra careful in summer. Summer time meals must include enough of this vital vitamin to take care of extra perspiration caused by hot weather activities.
Everybody is more active, one way or another in summer. Doing more vacation hiking or swimming, playing in more active sports, enjoying more weekend gardening or golf, or tennis
... all of which, by perspiration, quickly deplete the precious vitamin C.

A two-inch "dog collar" of diamond-set palladium is a new fashion feature, flattering to a not-so-young neckline.

BABY'S

UPSET STOMACH
QUICKLY CORRECTED

BABY'S little "Tummy" is often easily upset. It is easily righted again, too, if you know just how to do it. Let Mrs. M. S.
Alway, of London, Ont., tell you "Baby's Own Tablets" are a great help at the first sign of upset stomach, during teething time or when a cold is coming on. They work quickly yet gently to carry away poisons and promote mental comfort.

And Mrs. W. E. Sharp says: "I nursed my baby shortly after being alarmed over a motor accident and her stomach became quite upset. I gave her Baby's Own Tablets and she soon stopped crying—and calmed down."

Really effective for teething troubles, constipation, simple fever, sweat-rashes, colic, cramps, and all the "icky" stuff—no dulling effect. Buy a box today for sickness so often strikes in the night 25 cents.

CALAMITY CONTRACT DOWN SIX TRICKS

There are some rubber bridge players who go along picking up a trick here and there, never making an unsound bid, never taking a chance. This type will win in the long run, but you will never find their game very exciting. It is a known fact to good rubber bridge players that penalties do pay off big.

H. S. Dinkelspiel Jr., who used to be one of the outstanding players of New York, gave me today's calamity hand.

When Dinkelspiel gave me this hand he said, "Mac, look the West hand over. South bid a heart and West bid one no trump, and he took only one trick. Doesn't that seem unbelievable?" I said no, remembering the hand I wrote up several weeks ago where I held four aces and took only one trick.

Here is how the play went on today's hand. Dinkelspiel won North's opening lead of the ten of diamonds with the ace. He returned the ten of hearts. West played the jack, North won with the king, and returned the five of hearts. Dinkelspiel played the nine-spot which was allowed to hold the trick. He continued with the queen of hearts, West winning with the ace.

West elected to make a peculiar play. He led the ten of clubs, hoping to induce the opponents to take the trick, thus establishing four good club tricks. Dinkelspiel won the trick with the king. He cashed his two good hearts. The jack of diamonds was led and held the trick when West wisely played low. He shifted to the deuce of spades. North won with the ace, then cashed all his good diamond tricks. A small spade was played and Junior won this with the king.

North and South won 12 tricks, setting the contract six tricks doubled, for a score of 1,700 points.

Ace Gets The Point, Now

The next time Ace, a two-year-old boxer, roams the woods near his West Branch, Mich., home, he'll steer clear of those harmless-looking little animals that humans call porcupines. He made a pass at one recently with the result seen above—his face almost completely obscured by the porcupine's sharp quills. Dr. Robert Rea is shown removing them.

Canada's Farm Districts Well Manned For Harvest

By Canadian Press

The annual interprovincial movement of Canadian harvesters is already well under way, but preliminary crop estimates indicate pickings will be somewhat slimmer this year.

Most of Canada's agricultural districts are well-manned for the 1949 harvest, a Canadian Press survey shows, and the demand for import labor is light. There is no call for women and children.

Wages for farm hands are a bit lower everywhere this year, too. On the prairies, wages are $5 and $6 a day for laborers and harvesters—higher for specialists—and in the eastern provinces, the pay scale ranges between $50 and $100 a month.

In Saskatchewan, where the crop picture is a feast-or-famine affair, the government has made no application to eastern Canada for harvest help, but it is expected about 600 workers, the same number as last year, will go to the province. In northern Saskatchewan, farmers anticipate the best harvest in years, but southwest sections will be lucky if they get back the price of their seed.

FROM ONTARIO

Ontario employment officials have transferred only 100 harvesters to the prairie provinces, but they expect to move about 1,300 more.

The Ontario harvest, with an estimated value of $900,000,000, is considered "very good" by agricultural experts despite the prolonged early-summer drought. Grain farmers throughout Ontario have employed 1,000 workers from western Canada and the Maritimes and 1,000 European displaced persons.

The Alberta government has made tentative arrangements for 500 men from eastern Canada. Most of them will arrive about Sept. 1 when harvesting will be general. There were 960 outside workers last year, but the general 1949 crop is lighter and harvesting more staggered because of late seasonal rains.

Labor requirements in Manitoba, Quebec and the Maritimes are considerably lower than last year.

Quebec farms will have all the manpower they need for the anticipated $200,000,000 harvest.

Yield of coarse grains in Manitoba will probably be lower this year, and the wheat yield is expected to be about 20 bushels per acre, roughly one bushel below the 1948 average. The Manitoba government has clipped its manpower requirements from 800 last year to 500 this year.

POTATOES FROM P.E.I.

In Nova Scotia all the harvesting is done by the farmers and no labor is imported. Prince Edward Island usually imports about 1,000 potato pickers and New Brunswick had sufficient workers to handle the crops.

In British Columbia, where grain production is negligible, officials figure that increased production, combined with lower prices, will keep 1949 fruit and vegetable harvests on a par with last year's $25,000,000 crop.

Fruit, beans and other vegetable crops will hit a near-record despite the disastrous floods of 1948, but rain and labor shortages have curtailed the berry season considerably.

"KISS ME KATE"

AS I LOOK OUT MY WINDOW ... down here at the store, I can see the wreckers ... by the score. Demolishing old buildings across the way, for a new Post Office ... some future day. I sit here and think ... then silently wonder, if SOMEONE isn't making ... another blunder. Because with buildings ... you GOTTA admit, we surely can make ... a mess of it. 'Course I MAY be, wrong & full of prunes, & if I am ... I'll TAKE ... the harpoons. But it looks to me ... as I gaze at these scars, they've made NO provision ... for parking cars. What fun it will be when the weather is damp, to walk 6 blocks to buy a stamp. And imagine the fun at Christmas time, no provision for parking ... seems a crime. Gives one a ... a bit of a jar, "Why—There's No Place To Park A Car." But maybe I'm wrong ... & shouldn't roast, or maybe they'll build ... a hitching post. But if they're thinking IS so muggy, we'd be better to go back to the horse in buggy. They talk of town planning ... now HERE was our chance, will SOMEONE please call ... an ambulance. Come & get me ... take me away, 'cause Post Office too ... I'd like to play. Just like we did at parties ... teen-age, at "counting-the-stars" we did engage. So please come & get me, as I fear, I need to be taken ... out of here, I can't bear it, I won't be sound, when the cars start going ... round & round. Hopelessly looking for a place to park, I'm going mad ... raving stark. So hurry ... hurry ... before it's too late, I wanna play Post Office ... KISS ME KATE.

150 Children Have Thrilling Day At Sea

Refusing to let the poor weather dampen their enthusiasm, 150 youngsters Wednesday afternoon put to sea with a fleet of 50 yachting craft for one of the grandest days in their young lives.

The occasion was the first annual "Children's Day," put on jointly by the Royal Victoria and Capital City Yacht Clubs.

Prime mover in establishing this new annual occasion was Miss Mary Armson, new secretary at the Royal Victoria Yacht Club, who started a similar "Children's Day" in Vancouver before coming here.

The aim of the club members is to take out of the city children who otherwise would not have an opportunity of going out for a jaunt aboard pleasure craft. C. J. Harrington, publicity chairman for the R.V.Y.C., said all boats and children were insured for the day.

The fun began at the R.V.Y.C. anchorage, chosen as headquarters for the day, as the children arrived by bus. The excited youngsters were taken in charge by a small army of ladies from the yacht clubs who spent a busy few minutes adjusting lifebelts on each child. Caps and favors were passed out and the children were guided down to the waiting fleet of boats. All but one little boy. He took one look at the sea and crowded anchorage and burst into tears. Consolation did little good and his companions had to troop on without him.

At last all the children were safely aboard their respective craft, split up into small groups, so they would have a whole boat almost to themselves.

Led by Cherie, owned by R.V.Y.C. Commodore Dr. R. J. Wride, and Ysidro, owned by C.C.Y.C. Commodore H. Henshell, the parade of boats chugged out from the anchorage to spread far out over the waters.

The cruise took the children outside of Jimmy Jones Island, around Ten Mile Point and down to St. Margaret's Bay and back to the yacht club where hot dogs, soda-pop, ice cream and other things to delight their young hearts awaited.

There was also a magician's show and a band to entertain the youngsters. At 6, the day was over and the children were on their way home.

A life-belt, a hat and a favor were the first things each child received as he reached Royal Victoria Yacht Club. In the foreground are three of the well-equipped youngsters, Grace Rawlings, Dennis Heleas and Elsie Conarroe. Mrs. D. R. Roberts is attending to young Dennis and Mrs. Andrew Mellin adjusts Elsie's cap.

Chiefs Stop Bears In Bid For Third Place

It is now apparent that Wenatchee Chiefs are not going to be satisfied with fourth position in the Western International League pennant race. The Tribe last night dusted off the league-leading Yakima Bears, 10 to 3, behind the five-hit pitching of Merle Frick, to move within one game of third-place Spokane, who bowed to Salem, 11 to 9.

Victoria Athletics and Vancouver Capilanos were rained out here, while Bremerton and Tacoma also fell victim to the weatherman.

Tonight the A's are in Vancouver to round out the schedule against the Caps with four games on the rest of the week card. The club returns home on Monday for a week's stand against Tacoma and Bremerton. They will make a fast trip to Tacoma for two games Sunday, Sept. 4, returning here for a Labor Day double-header against Bremerton to wind up the season.

MITCHELL GOES
Dick Mitchell will be the probable starting pitcher for the Victoria club tonight.

In other series changes tonight Spokane goes to Yakima and Wenatchee to Salem.

Short scores follow:
Yakima 10, 3, 10, 16, 2
Savannah and Orling; Frick and Winter
Salem 11, 9, 17, 12
O. Peterson, Olson (7) and Board
Adams, Kimball (7), Conant (7), Howard (8) and Parks.

Re-elect Warren As Tee Club President

George I. Warren is again president of the Tee Club of British Columbia. He was elected to a fourth term at the club's annual meeting at Campbell River last week-end.

E. Blake Ballentine of Vancouver was elected vice-president. The board of directors includes W. H. McMillan, Victoria; A. N. Wolverton, Vancouver, and Ray E. Slocum, Oakland.

Membership in the club, which is directly associated with the International Game and Fish Association, is now over 600. Fifty-five new members were added last year.

Third Game Of Boxla Finals Set Tonight

Foul Bay and Tillamuc tangle again tonight at Stevenson Park at 6:30 in the third game of a best three out of five finals for the city championship in the Greater Victoria Box Lacrosse League.

Tillamuc picked up a thrilling 13 to 11 win in the first game of the series and eked out an 8 to 7 victory on Tuesday night. They will be out to make it three in a row and eliminate Foul Bay from further competition.

Baseball Leaders Pay No Attention To 'Fix' Letters

NEW YORK (AP)—Top baseball officials Wednesday shrugged off as "no substance" a report that there have been hundreds of attempts in recent years to fix baseball games in the United States.

The New York Post-Herald News published the report in one of a series of articles on what it calls a $5,000,000-a-year betting racket.

The newspaper said "sums up to $10,000 have been offered players" and in some instances there have been threats of violence.

Specifically, it cited tampering letters it said were sent recently to a Brooklyn player and to Eddie Dyer, manager of St. Louis Cardinals.

Baseball leaders acknowledged there have been such letters but described them as a "screwball" variety.

Walter Mulberry, secretary of baseball, said in Cincinnati that reports of widespread attempts to fix games are without foundation.

Ford Frick, president of the National League, said Bruce Edwards, Brooklyn Dodgers' catcher, received a letter several weeks ago in an apparent attempt to fix a game. He described it as a "nutty letter."

Army Tug-Of-War Champions

Marking the effort to put the Army back in the local sports scene in a big way has been the performance of the Garrison tug-of-war team this year. The soldiers have captured the Sergeants' Mess Challenge Cup, the Langford Day Cup and the Army and Navy Tug-of-war cup in competition during the season. ## Robinson Will Get Middleweight Shot; Kayoes Belloise In Brawl

NEW YORK (UP)—Sugar Ray Robinson, the best all-round fighter in any current division, today was slated tentatively for a winter shot at the middleweight championship as a reward for his thrilling seven-round technical knockout victory over Steve Belloise.

Robinson, present world welterweight champion, said he would be willing to give up his 147-pound crown for a chance at the 160-pound diadem now worn by Jake La Motta.

Sugar Ray—sleek, slender Harlem Negro—established himself as a middleweight contender last night by stopping veteran Belloise of The Bronx in their grand brawl that attracted 28,812 and a gross gate of $120,860 at Yankee Stadium.

Matchmaker Al Weill of the International Boxing Club said Robinson would get a title shot at the winner of the championship bout between La Motta and Marcel Cerdan of Morocco, scheduled for the Polo Grounds here Sept. 28. Weill said he would like to toss Robinson and the Sept. 28 winner into Madison Square Garden "sometime during the winter."

Belloise, 30 and nearly bald, provided Robinson with such stiff competition last night that it seemed in the fourth and fifth rounds he might turn in an upset. Steve had gone into the ring an underdog at 3 to 1.

At the beginning of the second, for example, Sugar Ray rushed out of his corner and tried to catch Steve "cold" with a streaming right for the head. He missed the blow, and Steve countered with a smashing left hook to the chin that sent Robinson reeling half way across the ring into the ropes.

STAGGERS RAY
In the fourth round Belloise weathered a head battering in the first minute and then staggered Sugar Ray with a hooking attack to the head. He chased Robinson about the ring for two full minutes.

Steve also had a slight edge in the fifth, despite Robinson's rally near the end.

However, Belloise was nearly "out on his feet" in the sixth and sixth rounds as a result of the punishment he received from Robinson's savage "lifting barages" of rapid fire hooks to body and head.

The action was so exciting in every round that the fans were on their feet and yelling half the time.

Robinson weighed 153½ pounds; Belloise 158.

Neither Drobny, seeded second in the foreign entries, nor Cernik, ranked 10th, has any intention of returning to his homeland.

"We've been declared traitors," the 27-year-old Drobny said, "and would be imprisoned if we returned to Czechoslovakia."

Cernik, whose wife and two-year-old son still are in Czechoslovakia, said he has not heard from them and "I don't know what has happened to them."

NEXT year Stratton went back to the Sox as a coach and worked at that job for three years. In 1942 Monty, determined to pitch again, signed up with Lubcock in the West Texas and New Mexico League but worked only nine innings and showed little. Stratton dropped out of sight until 1946 when he attracted wide attention by winning 18 and losing only eight for the Sherman club in the class C East Texas League. The league folded and in 1947 Stratton won seven and lost seven for Waco in the class B Big State League. Then Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer hired him as technical adviser for the filming of his life story. Stratton is now pitching semi-pro ball in his native state of Texas and doing all right.

Mrs. Todd Reaches Last Eight In Canadian Golf

Manyunk To Pack Top Weight For Longacres Mile

SEATTLE (AP)—Henry W. Collins' Manyunk will lug the largest load—129 pounds—if he goes to the post Sunday in the $15,000 Longacres Mile.

Imposts for the 14th running of the track's top race, announced today, listed defending champion Ambie In at 125 pounds. Mrs. Irvine Levine's speedster will be coupled with Allen Drumheller's Georgie Drum (120 pounds) and the K. and L. Stable's War Slave (107). The Drum, which finished lame in the Spokane Handicap last Sunday, is a doubtful starter.

Collins has Why Alibi (112) and Carry Message (104) as an entry with Manyunk.

The Clearbrook stable's Two and Twenty, likely favorite, drew 115 pounds. C. J. Sebastian's Galla Danton, ace of a three-horse entry, must carry 122 pounds. His Stage Glitter and Blue Tiger each drew 118.

A. E. Simpson of Vancouver, B.C., has coupled Menu (110) and Flaming Beau (109).

Other weightings: Count-A-Bit, 120; Divine Right, 112; Newsbeat, 110; Jack Pattison's Brambling and Star Affair, 110 each; Bill Lochhead of Vancouver has Sir Berrill at 109; the Canadian Prairie champion Pagan Star and Lucky Valley, 108; Victoria's His Brother, 106; One Pint, 103, and Irene's Angel, 100.

Press Party Finds Cove Fishing Good
Members of the Legislative Press Gallery, guests of Education Minister W. T. Straith on a fishing expedition off Deep Cove Wednesday, had good luck.

A 10-pound coho and 12 grise were their catch from Hugh Creed's boat, the Tern.

Champion of the day was Fred McNeil for landing the coho and two of the grise. C. Moriarty and Jim Nesbitt both had three grise to their credit, while Dave Driver and Mr. Straith both landed two. Lloyd Baker was the only member of the party who was "skunked."

Drobny, Cernik In U.S. For Net Play
NEW YORK (CP)—The self-exiled Czech tennis stars, Jaroslav Drobny and Vladimir Cernik, arrived here Wednesday by plane from London. They will compete in the United States singles championships at Forest Hills, N.Y., next week.

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

DROPPING into a local theatre yesterday afternoon I had the pleasure of watching a good ball game and a mighty fine film "The Stratton Story." Hollywood's Jimmy Stewart and June Allyson are the stars in a gripping story that has many moments. Best of all is the manner in which the technical end of the picture is handled. It is baseball at its best as one can watch the smooth action of a pitcher, hear the ring of a solid base hit or the thud in a catcher's mitt and take in all the other atmosphere associated with a professional engagement.

STEWART impersonates the real life of Monty Stratton, a gangling young fellow from Texas, who became one of the leading right-hand pitchers in the American League as a member of the Chicago White Sox before a shooting accident in 1938 resulted in the amputation of his right leg above the knee. Baseball men throughout America have praised the film as "being excellent drama and honestly-depicted baseball."

FROM such a baseball authority as J. Taylor Spink, publisher and editor of The Sporting News, baseball's bible, came this statement: "The production takes some liberty with the facts to simplify the plot and stress the theme. Such omissions are minor and inevitable in condensing into an hour and a half of screen entertainment the important features of Stratton's baseball career and his struggle to rehabilitate himself."

THE courageous Stratton, now 37, broke in with Galveston in the Texas League in 1934 and the same year was signed by the White Sox. Exactly, as in the movie, his debut in the majors was disastrous and he was farmed to Omaha in the Texas League. In 1935 with St. Paul in the American Association he won 17 and lost nine and was recalled by the Sox. In 1936 Stratton won five and lost seven. The following year, although pitching for one of the weakest hitting clubs in the league, Monty won 15 and lost only five. Stratton won 15 and lost nine in 1938 despite a sore arm, minor injuries and operations. In November he accidentally wounded himself with a .38

Old Burt Shotton Loses Frown As He Predicts Brooklyn Win

NEW YORK (UP)—The weary frown was gone and in its place radiated an eye-twinkling beam today as Brooklyn manager Burt Shotton named Don Newcombe, Preacher Roe and Joe Hatten as the men he thinks will pitch the Dodgers to the pennant.

The Pharaoh of Flatbush is a man apt to change his opinions with the tide of victory and defeat. But with his Dodgers victors over the St. Louis Cardinals two games in a row and edging upward only one game out of first place, he seemed confident that the club's pitching woes were gone.

Shotton did not need to make much of a case for Newcombe. With a 12-6 record, the burly Don was noted as the most dependable man on the staff even before he tossed the Dodgers to a 6 to 0 win over the Cards yesterday. He rapped in three of the runs himself with an eight-inning bases-loaded double.

Likewise, it was easy to heap laurels on Roe, who hoisted the Dodgers up from the depths of despair with an eight-hit 4 to 3 lacing of the Cards Tuesday night.

DECEIVING TREND

But it takes some careful reflection to place Hatten on the list of Brooklyn saviors. He was the chap who lost the ball game to the Cards Tuesday afternoon, a loss which was the Dodgers' fourth straight and put them three games out of first place. However, the record is deceiving. Hatten has been pitching good ball right along. Even that loss to the Cards was a tough one, helped along by two Brooklyn miscues as much as by the hits Joe allowed.

Both Roe and Newcombe pitched to victories in the three-game Cardinal series with only two days of rest. If they can stand such pressure, and if Hatten stays in there, the Dodgers will be tough to beat—even by as game a bunch as those Cards.

With the Dodgers and the Cards battling so for the flag, there's little time to heed the defending champion Boston Braves. But the beanthrowers were in there plugging yesterday with Warren Spahn's fifth straight victory, a 6 to 5 decision over the Pittsburgh Pirates. Spahn survived both a ninth inning Pirate rally and a Pirate plea to have the game called during a drizzle in the fifth with the Bucs five runs behind.

Westrum's two homers and one by Sid Gordon gave the New York Giants a 5 to 3 win over the Chicago Cubs in the only other National League game.

The idle Boston Red Sox climbed to within two games of the leading New York Yankees in the American League when the Yanks dropped a 13 to 2 decision to Detroit. Three Yankee pitchers allowed a total of 13 walks. Then there were Vic Wertz' two homers to add more damage.

The third-place Cleveland Indians failed to gain on the Yanks when they lost a 3 to 2 night game to the Washington Senators in Cleveland. Mickey Harris got credit for the win with relief help from Joe Haynes. Bob Kennedy homered for Cleveland.

Dick Fowler's five-hitter gave the Philadelphia Athletics a 5 to 0 win over the Chicago White Sox in the only other American League game.

San Diego Ball Club Stock Sold To Group

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Sale of approximately one-third of the shares of Pacific Coast League's San Diego Baseball Club was reported completed today.

The purchase of most of the stock formerly held by Victor J. Schulman—one third partner with William Starr and Dr. R. M. Stone—was by a group of nine. All are San Diego men. The deal settled a court fight over Schulman's proposal to sell. He retained a minor holding.

With the Dodgers and the Cards battling so for the flag, there's little time to heed the defending champion Boston Braves. But the beanthrowers were in there plugging yesterday with Warren Spahn's fifth straight victory, a 6 to 5 decision over the Pittsburgh Pirates. Spahn survived both a ninth inning Pirate rally and a Pirate plea to have the game called during a drizzle in the fifth with the Bucs five runs behind.

Westrum's two homers and one by Sid Gordon gave the New York Giants a 5 to 3 win over the Chicago Cubs in the only other National League game.

Strong Seattle Squad To Meet Tiremen Here

Manager Jim Lackie's Douglas Tire softballers, at present engaged in a best-of-five series with Brentwood Aces for the city senior A title, tackle a tough hurdle over the weekend when they play host to the strong Seattle Rippers in three games.

The Sound City team, regional champions and eighth-place finishers in the U.S. national tournament last year, will bring a record of 32 straight victories to the city.

Pitcher Don Skinner is the star of the club. He has won 18 games this season and has been with a club in the national tournament three times. He is also a sticker of ability having finished fifth in the Northwest League batting race during this year's campaign.

The only four men to finish ahead of Skinner were all members of the Rippers—catcher Bob Craig, centre fielder Bob Beyer, shortstop John Malgarini and right fielder Tom Schultz, who captured top honors in that order.

The club's other hurler is Irv Pohl, whose record for the season is 14 victories.

Games will be played at both Central and Athletic Parks. The Saturday afternoon tilt will take place at Central starting at 2:30 with the evening game at 7:30 set for Athletic Park. On Sunday the teams will return to Central for a 2:30 game.

PLAYOFF FRIDAY

Last night's league playoff between Aces and Douglas Tire was rained out. The clubs will meet in the fourth game of the set on Friday at 6:30 with the fifth game, if necessary, billed for next week.

Douglas Tire leads the series two games to nothing. The other game ended in a tie.

Bruce Woodcock Resumes Training

MANCHESTER, Eng. (AP)—Bruce Woodcock said he would start training today for his fight with Lee Savold of Paterson, N.J., which is for the British version of the world heavyweight championship.

Woodcock has been taking it easy since he was injured in an automobile accident earlier this month that forced postponement of his scheduled Sept. 6 fight with Savold.

Woodcock said the fight with Savold will be held "fairly soon" and promoter Jack Solomons will set the date.

City Playground Net Finals Billed Friday

Though rain forced a halt to some matches in the city playground tennis championships at Stadcona Park yesterday, all finals will take place as scheduled at the courts of the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club starting at 2.

Trophies will be presented to the winners with runners-up to be the recipients of suitable prizes.

In yesterday's boys' singles Dave Worthy defeated Richard Anderson, 6-1, 6-2, and Gary Culham eliminated Colin Creighton, 6-2, 6-0.

row will be between Worthy and Culham and the winner of today's match between Crozier and Kirkham and Shoultice and Curtis.

Marie Eathly defeated Marina Fatt in a three-set battle, 6-2, 6-2, in the girls' singles yesterday while Gerry Koski scored an easy 6-1, 6-0 triumph over Teresa O'Brien.

The Koski sisters, winners over Winter and Ward, and Mayna Barr and Bessie Graham, victors over Kelter and O'Brien, will clash for the girls' doubles crown.

Sir Achtoi Speeds To Head Win In Handicap

VANCOUVER (CP)—Bill Lochead's front-running Sir Achtoi set the pace all the way Wednesday to score a head victory in the $1,200 speed handicap at Exhibition Park. Time for the six furlongs was 1:13 2-5.

Jockey Paul Bailey, scoring his second victory in two days, jumped the five-year-old chestnut into the lead at the break and withstood all challenges, the gamest from Pineworth, in the race to the wire.

Poncho Py was third in the six horse field. Sir Achtoi, bred by Jim Speers, paid $3.55 on the straight end.

Marchildon Ready For Starting Role Again

NEW YORK (CP)—Phil Marchildon, once ace hurler for Philadelphia Athletics, is rainin' to go again.

After almost two full seasons of arm trouble, the Penetangulish, one, Ont., right-hander, says his shoulder has responded well to treatment and he wants to get back on the list as a starter for Connie Mack.

Penatang Phil, who won nine against 15 losses last season, started medical treatment right after play began this spring. His shoulder acted up the first game he pitched and that contest is the only one that shows on his record this season—no wins, one loss.

But the 33-year-old slinger worked six innings against Cleveland a few weeks ago as a reliever and said his sore wing "just felt fine."

"I shut 'em out for that stretch and I'm anxious to get back to work now," he said.

"I figure maybe I'm good for another two to five years," he added.

His first season with the Athletics, 1941, after coming up from Toronto Maple Leafs, saw him win 10 and lose 15. A year later he owned a 17 to 14 record—and that was the year the team only won 55 games.

War intervened and the B.C. A.F. got Phil. After being shot down and spending 11 months in a prisoner-of-war camp, he came back in the 1946 season to earn a 13 to 16 record. The next was his best year with a 19 to 9 mark.

RAIN HALTS CRICKET

Huge 80-Foot Tank Towed Through Centre Of City

An 80-foot-long, 25,000-gallon tank was juggled through downtown Victoria today from Victoria Machinery Depot's Bay Street plant to the E. and N. Railway yards for shipment to Nelson.

A huge Heaney's Carriage truck and trailer towed the 40-ton cylindrical monster to the railway yard. The tank, to be used for propane gas, is being shipped to Nanaimo on three railway flat cars and then by railway barge across to the mainland for transportation to Nelson.

Using a new automatic union-melt machine for welding the tank, V.M.D. workmen finished the job of constructing the tank in about two weeks. Four others have been ordered from V.M.D. by the B.C. Electric and work on these now is under way.

The remarkable machine being used for the welding job was designed and built by V.M.D. engineers and is the only machine of its kind on Vancouver Island.

By means of an ingeniously-rigged arm, from the end of which the actual welding is done, and by use of a trolley with rollers, a welding job that would take two days to complete by hand now can be done in as little as 70 minutes.

The machine allows welding around, along or across any steel plate and leaves a smoothly-finished weld.

Lawyer Suggests Beer As Gargle In Arguing Point

Admission of evidence that a man charged with careless driving had been drinking prior to becoming involved in an accident over which the charge was laid, was argued in city police court this morning.

The point was raised by Joseph McKenna, defence counsel for the driver charged. He said testimony of a police officer that his client "had a smell of beer on his breath" at the accident scene, should be ruled out of order by the court.

"We have beer parlors where beer is dispensed and liquor stores where beer is sold in this province quite legitimately," Mr. McKenna argued. "People might gargle with beer and have a smell on their breath."

When another officer testified accused admitted having five glasses of beer, Mr. McKenna said the evidence was not material in the case.

"Such evidence would only be material if this man was charged with driving while intoxicated," he claimed.

Magistrate A. I. Thomas agreed with the arguments of Mr. McKenna and said he would not consider the testimony of drinking in passing judgment.

David H. Readshaw, R.R. 1, East Saanich Road, pleaded guilty in city police court today of having driven a truck not equipped with proper brakes. The charge was laid by police who inspected the Readshaw truck and found both the brake pedal and emergency hand brake were useless. A fine of $15 was imposed.

James Bay Opens Tennis Court Drive By Playground Day

W. H. Warren, park superintendent, officially opened the community playground day at James Bay Park Wednesday afternoon, which was the initial phase in the community's drive for tennis courts in the James Bay area.

Alfred D. McTavish, chairman of city council's parks committee; Gordon Hartley, city playground director, and Dr. H. R. Anderson, director of the Greater Victoria Recreation Council, were among those attending the opening.

Interpark games, tumbling and a display of summer playground handicrafts were among the day's events. Pat Noel wore a "dress of a thousand pockets," which proved a unique method of raising funds. A guessing contest and fortune telling booth proved money-makers also.

Under the direction of George Smith, children from Beacon Hill Park gave a tumbling exhibition. Members of the newly-formed James Bay tennis court committee who will carry on the campaign include H. G. Browning, chairman, representing James Bay Community Centre; Mrs. E. Eastwood, vice-chairman, representing James Bay P.T.A.; Mrs. M. Atkins, secretary, also of the P.T.A.; Mrs. G. Fagan, representing Eagles, Scouts and Cubs; and Mrs. T. L. Hallberg, James Bay United Church Women's Auxiliary.

In charge of Wednesday's program were Vivian Spicer, head of the James Bay playground program; Dorothy Tubbs, supervisor at Beacon Hill Park, and Nancy Gray, supervisor at Todd Park.

Tourists Pay $1,000 For China Vase

One thousand dollars for a china piece was paid by Mr. and Mrs. James Smitherman of Shreveport, Louisiana, during their two-weeks vacation in Victoria.

They bought a Belleek china vase for $1,000 from Sidney A. Reynolds Ltd., 801 Government Street. They intend to donate it to the R. W. Norton Foundation Museum in Shreveport, a city with a population of about 120,000 in northwestern Louisiana.

The vase is an international piece which was exhibited throughout Europe and is considered an outstanding example of modern ceramics.

Actually it will cost the buyers much more than $1,000 for the vase. The duty for shipment into the United States will cost them an additional $450.

Mrs. Smitherman said she never saw a city with a display of such beautiful china.

"I bought the piece because I thought the people back home would appreciate seeing what good china looks like," she said. The Norton Foundation Museum, where the vase will be exhibited, was erected as a memorial to her brother.

"The World Today and Tomorrow" will be the subject of an address at a joint meeting of the Canadian Club and the Women's Canadian Club to be given by Beverley Baxter, M.P., on Aug. 31 at the Victoria High School Auditorium. Meeting will commence at 8.15.

Federal, Provincial Officials Seek Solution To Housing Lack

Reconstruction Minister R. H. Winters, right, breakfasts on board the night steamer here with Fisheries Minister R. W. Mayhew before going to the Parliament Buildings to discuss housing problems.

Federal and provincial government officials today sat down at a big table in the Parliament Buildings here in an effort to find a solution to British Columbia's postwar housing problems.

The discussions were between federal Reconstruction Minister Robert H. Winters and Premier Byron Johnson and his cabinet. E. D. Mansur, president of the federal government's Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, also sat in on the talks.

Mr. Winters, an active 39-year-old man who qualifies as the youngest member of Prime Minister St. Laurent's cabinet, arrived here by boat this morning. Accompanying him were Victoria's representative in the federal cabinet, Fisheries Minister R. W. Mayhew, Mr. Winters' private secretary, R. L. Elliott, and Mr. Mansur.

After breakfasting on the boat with Mr. Mayhew, Mr. Winters proceeded to the Parliament Buildings for the discussions. Later he was guest of the province at a luncheon. He returned to Vancouver by boat this afternoon, en route to Ottawa with a stopover scheduled at Winnipeg.

Some weeks ago Premier Johnson initiated provincial-federal housing discussions when he met Mr. Winters in Ottawa. Since then Mr. Winters has visited all provincial capitals on the question. The discussions here today were a continuation of the talks held in Ottawa by Mr. Winters and Mr. Johnson.

Mr. Winters housing is a provincial problem, but the federal government, wishing to maintain the Canadian economy at a high level, having greater financial resources than the provinces and boasting an organization to deal with the problem, is eager to help find its solution.

The purpose of the discussions with the provincial governments was to find first some common understanding of the problem and second, some solution through co-operation of the federal and provincial governments, said Mr. Winters.

The aim, to him, he said, "was national legislation which would be broad enough and flexible enough to allow all provinces to do under it what they think needs to be done."

Earlier in Vancouver Mr. Winters had said he would like Mr. Johnson to put forward a second mortgage plan whereby the province would advance the down payments on National Housing Administration loans.

"The payments could be blended so that it wouldn't be too hard on the borrower," he said. But he added that the federal government would co-operate on almost any plan, so long as more houses are built.

Mr. Winters, following the discussions here and a second discussion with Manitoba officials in Winnipeg on his way back to Ottawa, will make recommendations to the federal cabinet.

He said he hopes that the recommendations would become law during the forthcoming session of the federal Parliament.

CITY AMONG WORST HIT This was Mr. Winters' first visit to Victoria and he recalled that he had been told Victoria and Toronto were suffering from the most acute housing shortages in Canada. But, he added, every city in the Dominion likes to think its housing shortage is worse. Nevertheless, Victoria's because of special circumstances was among the worst.

Mr. Winters was born in Lunenburg, N.S., and his father was a sea captain and manager of Acadian Supplies Ltd.

An engineer by profession, holding degrees from Mount Allison University and Massachusetts Institute of Technology, he has served with Bell Telephone Laboratories, New York; New York Telephone Company, Northern Electric Company Ltd., Montreal, and during the war with the R.C.M.E. He is a reserve officer with rank of lieutenant-colonel.

He was first elected to the House of Commons in the 1945 general election. Before his appointment to the federal cabinet he served as parliamentary assistant to the national revenue and transport ministers.

Mr. Winters is probably the only member of the federal cabinet to enter the Canadian tennis championship trials. He laughed that off today, saying that he was put on the team, despite the fact he had not played tennis this year, because he was a vice-president of the club. He was soon eliminated, but, he said, he had some good games.

James Proudfoot, who appeared in court as defence counsel, said a plea of not guilty would be entered by his client.

This is the first time a charge of this kind has been laid. It is understood dancing after midnight Saturday is permitted for private parties and as a result some clubs continue after the hour.

A leading Victoria dance band leader said there had never been any trouble before over the midnight closing regulation.

An epidemic of lost wallets and purses appears to have broken out in Victoria.

James Beckerley, 891 Tillicum Road, reported loss of his wallet to city and Saanich police Wednesday afternoon and then reported finding it in a ditch near his home Wednesday night.

In the meantime, however, $600 in $100 and $50 bills had been taken from the billfold. Papers and a cheque made out to Beckerley for $81.50 were left.

Ken Silburn, 918 Lyall Street, reported loss of his wallet Wednesday night, with close to $60 contained in it. He told police he must have lost it between St. Ann's Academy and Melrose Cafe.

Evasive Monkey To Be Given Home

"Mike," year-old golden Rhesus monkey captured by the S.P.C.A. 10 days after it escaped from a Victoria West Park carnival, is not going to be put to sleep after all.

Society officials said today they have found a good home for the animal where it will be kept on a long chain but will be allowed to climb trees.

Owner of the monkey said it could be shot after he failed to catch it as it played in trees around houses in Victoria West.

The society decided then to trap it and put it to sleep humanely.

When protests were received against killing the monkey, it was decided to find it a good home.

Test Case For Dance Hall Saturday Midnight Curfew

Validity of a city ordinance which provides all public dance hall must shut down at midnight on Saturday nights will be tested in police court next week when Monty Montaine of the Club Sirocco appears before Magistrate Henry C. Hall.

Charge against Montaine was read in police court this morning. It is alleged that Montaine last Saturday night failed to close his club at midnight and that dancing went on into Sunday.

Recreation Council Ends Busy Summer, Prepares For Winter

Victoria Recreation Council, supported in part by funds from the Community Chest looks back, now that summer is nearly over, on a season of great activity in neighborhood playlots, where hundreds of children were kept off busy streets, taught games and co-operation.

Next activity of the council, as far as children are concerned, will be the Christmas Carol festival, which has become a musical highlight of that season.

Dr. Henrietta Anderson, speaking for the Recreation Council, says: "Through many channels we shape and mould public opinion; we wage a ceaseless fight for the things we feel a city of this size and importance just ought to have; at the moment it is tennis courts. We call public meetings; gather the facts and findings, wrestle with the apathy of the uninterested, keeping the interested from giving up the struggle meanwhile; often make ourselves rather unpopular with the 'powers' in our worry over the rapid spread of building, to the exclusion of proper playing fields and playgrounds and the lack of community halls and centres.

"All of this is made possible by the fact the Community Chest has enough faith to continue support, even in the face of declining revenues."

Preserving Peaches Plentiful Shortly

With the peach harvesting already half completed, the next two weeks will see large supplies enter the city and housewives are urged not to wait too long in purchasing fruit for preserving purposes, local wholesalers announced.

First Hale and Alberta peaches of the season will arrive in Victoria Saturday, while a shipment of Italian prunes, also fine for preserving, is expected to arrive Friday.

First shipment of silver-skin pickling onions of the season was unloaded on Wednesday and a carload of Oregon gravenstein apples was also received Wednesday.

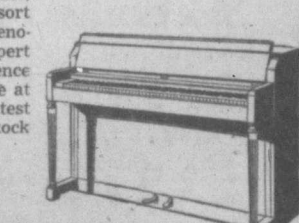

Although still on the shortage list, a limited supply of cantaloupes is expected Friday. It was announced that local green peppers were now on the market and good supplies of tomatoes and bananas are in stock.

Mayor To Welcome Archbishop Of York

Mayor Percy George will present an address of welcome to the Archbishop of York when he arrives here Oct. 1 on a visit to the west coast.

Mayor George learned today that His Grace will arrive by air at Patricia Bay at 5.50 the afternoon of Oct. 1.

He will stay at Government House where a dinner will be held in his honor the day of his arrival.

Henry. P. Meyers, 355 Moss Street, was found guilty of careless driving and fined $25 by Magistrate A. I. Thomas in city police court this morning. Meyers was charged following an accident Aug. 13 on Gorge Road in which a car he was driving struck the rear of a parked vehicle.

Seaweed-Fed Pond Scum May Be Good Food For You Soon

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y. (CP)—A few years from now you may be spreading your bread with a palatable food made of pond scum fed on seaweed.

It isn't that, it may come from yeast that grew to maturity on a diet of waste from a wood pulp factory.

In either case it will be as pure and wholesome as any other vegetable oil, and it may help solve the world's chronic postwar fats shortage, the United Nations Scientific Conference on the Conservation and Utilization of Resources was told Wednesday.

Dr. F. N. Woodward of Scotland's Seaweed Research Association linked his own subject with that of recent experiments at Stanford University in California. These established that

The plan is being worked out by D. W. R. Smith, sanitary inspector, and Keith MacDonald, public health educator.

Nuns To Have Duties Outside Convents

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Vatican has initiated a revision of the cloistered religious orders to allow the hitherto secluded nuns to go out in the world and spread the Roman Catholic faith, Vatican sources said today.

The informants said the change was undertaken at the request of church authorities of many countries and will be completed in about two years.

One of the principal objects, these sources said, will be to ease the medieval rules which confined the nuns to their convents. Those who desire will be permitted to take up outside church activities, such as teaching, and the convents will be made accessible to visitors.

It was emphasized, however, that nuns who desire to continue a contemplative life, withdrawn from the world, will be able to do so.
